TAFT IS HOPEFUL OF MAKING PEACE

More Optimistic View of Cuban Affairs Due to Conference

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S COMMISSIONER HAS A PLAN TO AVOID INTERVENTION, WHICH WILL CALL FOR CONCESSIONS ON EACH SIDE—PREPARATIONS FOR DISPATCH OF TROOPS ARE COMPLETE.

HAVANA, Sept. 22, midnight.—Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and more than a score of the leaders of the revolution held a conference tonight and it was announced that the latter had agreed to a conference. The leaders told Secretary Taft that all had agreed to abide by the judgment of this committee in any peace arrangements which it can make with the government through the aid of the American commission.

Among the committee were five prisoners, including Jose Miguel Gomez, Liberal candidate for president in the last election and all the principal revolutionary generals, including Pino Guerra.

Secretary Taft expressed much hopefulness concerning the situation. He said the leaders of both parties were very optimistic, the rebel leaders frankly declaring their conviction that the war was over.

At the end of the conference, the prisoners, in order to keep their parole, returned to prison in an automobile, escorted by Captain McCoy.

HAVANA, Sept. 22.—Secretary of War Taft sees a way tonight of saving the sovereignty of the Cuban republic. He admits that he has a tangible plan, but will not disclose its exact character. It is not a victory for either political party, but contemplates concessions by both.

The secretary's program is as yet embryonic and depends upon the patriotism of the moderate and Liberal leaders, both of whom have shown confidence in the mediators by naming delegates with definite powers of attorney to treat for their respective parties.

This action by Taft and Bacon is regarded as the most important yet taken. Negotiations on a new basis will open immediately, and it is believed that eventually the opposing delegates will be brought together at United States Minister Morgan's villa at Mariamoa with President Roosevelt's mediators.

Insurgent Leaders' Powers. Alfredo Zayas said to the Associated Press today:

"Concerning the question of my authority fully to represent Liberal sentiment, I already have full powers from the rebels in Pinar del Rio and Havana provinces. With the arrival here of Orestes Ferraria and Machado and the commissioners from General Guzman of Santa Clara province, coupled with the unquestioned support of the leaders who were liberated from jail today, I shall have ample authority to represent the Liberal party, and will be able to dispel Secretary Taft's just doubts on this point.

"I am confident that the basis recently presented, supported by the above powers, will solve the problem promptly."

Conference Last Night. Everything hinges tonight on a conference that is now proceeding at United States Minister Morgan's home between Secretary of War Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and the representatives of the Liberal leaders, the prisoners under arrest for alleged conspiracy and the rebel commanders in the field. Since the arrangements for this important meeting were made, Secretary Taft has believed that there was fair reason to believe that there would be an outcome to the negotiations which would lead to a settlement without the necessity of American intervention.

A New Situation. The situation was considerably changed from that of Friday as the result of a proposal made Friday night by the Moderates to accept whatever disposition of the controversy Taft and Bacon might decide upon. While these proposals are still unsatisfactory to and ridiculed by the Liberals as weak and not made in good faith, they have nevertheless paved the way for suggestion by Taft and Bacon for further concessions from both sides, which may yet have the republic without the necessity of American intervention.

Successes as to Plans. The suggestion is that the suggestions of the American commissioners will include the retention of President Palma and perhaps Senator Stirling, secretary of the treasury, with Manuel Despairago, the administrator of the customs, in his present position or in the cabinet. Senators Stirling and Despairago are highly esteemed by both Liberals and Moderates as honorable business men. The suggestion of the commissioners probably will also include new general elections, although there may be only an arrangement for electing members of the cabinet, the present congress to continue until next year's congressional elections.

Isle of Pines Again. A committee representing the American living in the Isle of Pines reported that Mayor Sanchez, who is in charge of the Isle of Pines, had resigned, and stated that the island was without a local government. They asked Secretary Taft to demand the appointment of some officer to take mining the number and character of the troops to be employed in Cuba, is not idle. Maps of a special kind already have been printed which cover the latest obtainable information of the topography of the island, and plans have been worked out for the force after it is landed in Cuba.

It is regarded as significant, too, that some of the troops engaged in operations at the various practice camps have been hurried back to their stations by train and not marched back, as originally intended.

Information was received today that at Fort Riley, Kansas, the Second squadron of the Second cavalry, the First squadron of the Thirteenth cavalry and the Seventh and Twentieth battalions of field artillery would start next week and the week after on overland marches of about 250 miles. These are just the sort of troops which would be utilized in a Cuban campaign and it is thought they may be hurried East at the time of their practice marches in the event of a decision to invade Cuba.

Waiting for the Word. All of the questions in fact as to how and where and what have been answered, as far as the war department is concerned, and the same may be said of the navy and marine corps. Every branch of the war establishment is in a state of readiness for instant activity. Officials of all the departments now are awaiting an answer to the question, "When?"

That answer can come only from President Roosevelt.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—A dispatch from Havana to the Picayune today gives a signed statement by the insurgent leader, General Ernesto Asbert, in which he says that if peace is not made by the Palma administration the revolutionists propose to attack "all property" in order to precipitate American intervention.

"And this we will do," Asbert continues, "because we are absolutely certain that the present government of the United States does not aspire to annex our youthful republic, since President Roosevelt, who personally helped to destroy the Spanish regime, has the ambition to be the guardian of our liberties and now, as before, will lead his disinterested efforts to the work of justice which we support."

LONDON, Sept. 22.—American intervention in Cuba and the ultimate annexation of the island by the United States are looked upon as certain in official and diplomatic circles here, where it is declared that America is being forced to accept responsibility for Cuba, just as Great Britain was compelled to act the policeman in other parts of the world.

The following British official view was expressed to the Associated Press today:

"America may not like it, but she must come to it and from it appearances, now is the time. Capital has been introduced into Cuba with the understanding that America will maintain order and it is America's duty to intervene and protect property and stop continuous disorders."

BEVERIDGE'S PLAIN WORDS

Intervention In Cuba Means Its Annexation.

Fifty Thousand Troops Will Be Needed for One Year—
No Back Down.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana tonight opened the Republican congressional campaign in the Middle West by delivering an address in the Auditorium under the auspices of the Hamilton club of this city.

The hall was packed to the doors by the members of the club and their friends and the senator was given an enthusiastic reception. A short address by President Weston of the club preceded the speech of Senator Beveridge. A large number of Republican politicians were on the platform during the meeting.

Discussing the Cuban situation, Senator Beveridge said: "Let no man be deceived as to what intervention means. It does not mean proclamation; it means soldiers."

"Fifty thousand troops for at least one year will be necessary to build up again that social order which we once established in Cuba and which the Cubans themselves have shattered."

"After this has been accomplished, American administration will run smoothly, without any soldiers at all. But when we have once more done that work, we will never again let it be undone. We have made a mistake once; we will not make that mistake twice. If the American flag goes to Cuba, it goes to stay; we will return again to the traditional American doctrine, that wherever that flag is raised, it never shall be lowered."

POPE'S PHYSICIAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AS RESULT OF CANCER.

ROME, Sept. 22.—A consultation has been held over Dr. Lippini, physician to the pope, who is ill with cancer of the stomach. The physicians favored an operation but this was opposed by Dr. Mazzoni and other surgeons who considered the patient too weak for the ordeal, in spite of the fact that his heart is strong.

Armour Will Not Sell Out.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Representatives of Armour & Co. today declared that there is no truth in the report that J. Ogden Armour is about to close out his holdings in Armour & Co. to the Swifts.

ATLANTA'S BIG RACE RIOTS

Assaults By Negroes on White Women Led to Fierce Retaliation
By the Citizens.

MANY NEGROES ARE BEATEN TO DEATH

Victims of Mob Vengeance at Between Thirty and Forty and Still Rioting.

ATLANTA, 1:30 a. m.—Reports are being received from the outskirts of the town of rioting and of negroes being killed and driven from their homes. Rumors have it that at least twenty-five to thirty or more negroes have been killed here tonight, but it is impossible at this time to confirm this report.

All is quiet in the central portion of the city at present, but knots of people are standing on the street corners, apparently awaiting developments.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 22.—Four attempts at assault upon white women by negroes within or near the limits of the city today, wrought white citizens here to a high pitch of excitement tonight. The assaults of the day followed two others of a similar nature within the week, and at least half a dozen others within the last two months, and brought a climax tonight.

Acting Governor Terrell issued an order calling out five companies of the Fifth infantry, and one battery of light artillery. This order was not issued until three negroes had been killed and fifteen taken to the hospital. These include only the cases of which the police have knowledge. The local newspapers say the number of dead is larger.

The mob began its work early in the evening, pulling negroes from street cars and beating them with clubs, bricks and stones. Negro men and women riding to their homes after the work of the day were publicly torn from the cars or attacked on the streets. In a few cases negroes retaliated in the early part of the night, but by 10 o'clock they were scarce in public places. The fire department was called out to disperse the mob on Decatur street, which is most frequented by negroes, and for a time seemed to hold the crowd at bay. The police reserves were called out, and will hold the situation until troops can be mobilized. The mob seemed to lack leadership and this doubtless prevented greater slaughter.

The disturbance has taken the form of an active and bitter race war. The incidents of the day, which were given in numerous extras by the local papers early in the evening, added immensely to the usual Saturday crowd on the streets. A negro walking along Whitehall street, the principal shopping street, about 7 o'clock was attacked and beaten and escaped with few clothes. The news of this attack spread rapidly and within a few minutes the appearance of a negro was the signal for a riot. The negroes scattered from the streets, going to their homes by back alleys or flocking to Decatur street, the home of the negro element.

Soon the street cars were attacked and negroes going to their homes were taken from the cars and beaten; stampeded and in some cases fatally hurt.

The barber shops, where the negroes were employed, next became objects of attack. One of the hardest fights of the night took place at the post office. A negro barber shop across the street was the object of attack. In less than five minutes the shop was a mass of flames and the negroes were beaten, or to death, the other escaping by the aid of the police. On Peters street a lurch fight took place. This was started by a negro shooting at a crowd below from a second-story window. A bullet hit him and he fell back and died in a few minutes.

Several white men are reported to have been fired upon tonight, presumably by negroes. As they were leaving a street car on the West End line on their way to their homes, several shots were heard and bullets struck around them. They hastily caught the car, rode to the end of the line and returned to the city, fearing to go home tonight. Late workers are handling tonight to reach their homes. The fear of ambush by frontal negroes seems prevalent. The hardware stores did a rushing business in firearms of every sort early in the evening until the stores were closed by the police.

CONNECTICUT COMPANIES PAID $17 TEEN MILLIONS ON SAN FRANCISCO LOSS

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 22.—Individual losses on account of the San Francisco catastrophe have nearly all been paid by the fire insurance companies incorporated in Connecticut and having home offices in this city, according to statements given out by executive officers of those companies. Six Hartford companies have paid out to date $15,952,740, net, the gross amount of the claims being about 6 per cent more.

At the headquarters of the Independence league tonight, a statement was given out to the effect that the meeting of the Municipal Ownership league was not that of the original body, of which, it was asserted, the Independence league is the successor.

FIRST RUGBY GAME PLAYED AT STANFORD BY VARSITY TEAMS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Sept. 22.—The first Rugby football game of the season was played this afternoon on the Stanford field, between two teams chosen from "Varsity squad." The red fifteen won from the blacks by a score of 3-0 in a contest which showed that the collegians have yet much to learn about the imported game. Holman, captain of last year's freshman eleven, scored a try for the reds after a brilliant fifty-yard run.

MASSACRE IN KAMTCHATKA

Bodies of Japanese Found on the Shore.

Natives Say They Were Killed
By Russians—The St.
Petersburg Version.

TOKIO, Sept. 22.—The fishing ship Kiteka has arrived here and brings a report from Kamtchatka of the discovery on July 17th at the mouth of the Kaicha river of the bodies of eleven Japanese and the burned remains of a ship. Rain had washed away the mounds covering the dead and the bodies were exposed and decomposing. The ship had been identified as the Kiteka, which has been reported missing since July 1st. Bloodstained fragments and bayonets and swords also were found.

According to natives at the mouth of the river, the Kiteka was surprised by the Russian soldiers during the night. The crew was killed and the ship was burned.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 22.—

According to dispatches from Vladivostok received here, the encounter between the Russians and Japanese fishermen off Kamtchatka originated as follows:

In July a lieutenant named Solnikoff with ten Cossacks and two inhabitants of a local village were sent to the mouth of the Worowski river to protect the fishing industry. They found there Japanese poachers and arrested them. The Japanese demanded an explanation, and when this was given one of the Japanese stabbed and killed lieutenant Solnikoff, while his companions also were cut down.

The tragedy is said to have followed a quarrel the woman had with her husband, John Morrison, a ship builder.

Sheridan Can Be Saved.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—A cablegram was received tonight from Captain Humphrey, depot quartermaster at Honolulu, stating that the big army transport Sheridan, which recently went on the rocks at Barber's point, near that city, would be saved.

STATE CAMPAIGN IS OPENED BY LEADERS

Candidates For Governor Addressed
First Meetings Last Night

GILLETT WAS GIVEN GREAT OVATION AT OAKLAND—HE REPELLED THE CHARGE OF BOSS CONTROL—BELL AT VALLEJO REPEATED HIS BOAST THAT HE HAS READ HEARST OUT OF THE PARTY.

OAKLAND, Sept. 22.—With fireworks, music and oratory, the Republican state campaign was formally opened here tonight at the Macdonough theatre amid great enthusiasm. An ovation was given J. N. Gillett, the Republican candidate for governor, and he was wildly cheered as he entered the theatre, accompanied by Congressman Knowland, George A. Knight, George F. Hutton and other prominent party leaders. A parade through the principal streets preceded the meeting at the theatre at which Judge Harry A. Melvin presided.

Gillett's speech was enthusiastically received and the speaker was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause and cheers. Gillett said in part: "The Republican party again appeals to the voters of California, for their indorsement and support. Again we expect that the election of this state, which we desire prosperity to continue will rally to the standard of the Republican party."

"Our party not only relies upon its record, but upon what it pledges itself to do in the future. It has always advocated what was right, and it affected all interests of the nation, and it has at all times sought by proper legislation to encourage and build up our varied industries and our commerce. We have ever been watchful of the interests of the manufacturer, laborer, farmer, miner, merchant and capitalist, well knowing that to foster and protect them meant general prosperity to all."

"Since my nomination, the Democratic press of the state, and some of our Republican papers, too, have stated that I am the machine candidate, and the railroad candidate. Right here I want to emphasize the fact that I am no man's man and no corporation's candidate, but am the candidate solely of the best and grandest of that party that this country has ever had."

"I believe in developing every interest in our state and giving loyal support to every industry, in the end that our state may prosper. Therefore, I assert again that I am not the candidate of any man, of any faction or of any corporation, but the candidate of the Republican party and of the people, irrespective of party—just the same as Governor Pardee has been; and I hope and trust that my administration will reach the high standard which he has set."

"The Republican party is a business party, and believes in a business administration in both national and state affairs, and if the people of the state elect to continue our party to power for the ensuing four years, every effort will be made to give the state a careful, economical and business-like administration."

VALLEJO, Sept. 22.—Theodore Bell, the Democratic nominee for governor, opened his campaign here tonight at the Farragut theatre. Bell received an enthusiastic welcome. He was met on his arrival from San Francisco by a committee and escorted by three bands through the streets illuminated by red fire.

In his address, Bell said the issues involved were local and national. He inveighed against the alleged corruption of an affair by the Southern Pacific Railroad company, which he claimed would deprive the Republican candidates at Santa Cruz.

"This election," said he, "should be the railroad abuse and misrule in the state and if a nod from Harriman at a Washington banquet can elect the governor for this state, then let the people bear the yoke, who agree to this."

Continuing, Bell said: "There is no room in California today for the demagogue or agitator in labor matters. The duties of employer and employee appeal to the heart and not to the passions. Their cooperation is destroyed by political adventures. Today one man stands foremost amongst the agitators and through his newspaper stirs up the worst there is in human nature, that he may gratify his political ambitions. That man's name is Hearst."

"It is the solemn duty of the people of this state to drive him and his counterpart, Herrin, out of California. The Independence League shows indubitable proof of Hearst's treason to the Democratic party, through which he has tried to destroy the party and its magnificent national leader, William Jennings Bryan, and as a fitting punishment Hearst is expelled from our ranks. I am proud of the part I have taken in the purging of the party and it makes no difference how it affects the result."

"I would rather go to everlasting defeat without Hearst or Herrin, than to victory with either or both of them. I can win without the sand bag of the sack. I will retire from political life, and take my conscience with me."

Raisins are coming in to the packing houses at a lively rate, as most of the growers have their product in the sweet box. The weather has been very favorable for drying and some bumper yields are reported from many vineyards. With the heavy demand for raisins at fair prices the growers are the most prosperous season experienced by our growers in several years. The bulk of the crop is now in the sweet box and out of danger.

TRY TO SAVE FARM TOOLS

Machinery Covered By Waters of Tulare Lake.

Crew of Men Attempting to Get It to Dry Land—Hanford News.

HANFORD, Sept. 22.—A force of laborers in the employ of D. S. Cohn are engaged in raising his farm machinery, which is covered with from two to seven feet of water in Tulare lake, and in transporting it a distance of one and one-half miles to the shore. Yesterday Quimby Brothers, of Angolia visited the site of the inundated machinery with a view to taking the contract to get Mr. Cohn's steam tractor and traction engine out of dry land. The task will be a hard one, owing to the weight of the machinery, the depth of the water and the difficulty of getting together an adequate plant to do the work. The Messrs. Quimby report that the east side of the lake has receded more than a mile and that the water level is about fourteen inches lower than at its highest stage.

PRINCIPAL NOLAN OF SONOMA SCHOOLS WAS CLEARED BY STATE BOARD

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—The state board of education today unanimously adopted a resolution exonerating W. C. Nolan of the charge of criminal intimacy with some of his pupils. Frederick Burke, president of the state normal school of San Francisco and a member of the board, declared the plot to ruin Nolan was one of the most diabolical ever conceived, again—claiming that Nolan is principal of the public school at Sonoma.

BANK COMMISSIONER'S REPORT HIBERNIA SAVINGS AND LOAN SOCIETY
San Francisco Cal., September 12, 1906.
At the request of the Board of Directors of THE HIBERNIA SAVINGS AND LOAN SOCIETY, we have this day finished an examination of the financial condition of said Society. We beg to notify the public that we find its condition absolutely sound and its management careful and conservative. Its loans in this city have been made upon a basis of 60 per cent of the market value of the security or less, and are all covered by a safe margin. Four-fifths of the loans secured by mortgage are due and may be considered as call loans upon which the Bank can realize at any time. Its bonded securities consist of approximately $13,000,000 in United States bonds and $10,000,000 in bonds of the highest character, while all of its call loans are amply secured. It is proceeding rapidly with the collection of its insurance and will, beyond any doubt, collect in the neighborhood of $8,000,000 from the companies, which fully cover its claim against the destroyed improvements. Any alarm on the part of its depositors is wholly unreasonable. The Bank is safe, conservative and honest. So far as the Commissioners are able to ascertain the present needless alarm is due solely to idle rumor.

ASHBROOK FOR JUSTICE

Position Should Be Filled By a Lawyer.

Ashbrook Is Well Qualified for the Duties of the Office—His Labors.

Ashbrook, Republican candidate for Justice of the Peace of the Third Township.

M. V. Ashbrook, Republican candidate for justice of the peace of the Third township, is unusually well qualified for the position, being well versed in the law. The Third township includes the city of Fresno and all civil litigation under $500 is brought in this court. Fresno is no longer a village, and the justice should be a man who knows the law. It would save the cost of appeals and vexatious delays. No body will doubt Mr. Ashbrook's special qualifications for this position.

Mr. Ashbrook is not only a lawyer, but a public-spirited citizen and has for years taken a prominent part in all civic movements. In the initiatory movements looking to Fresno's welfare, he has always been a prominent factor.

M. V. Ashbrook was born in Delaware, Ohio, on Oct. 23, 1849. He started to California with A. Ashbrook in March, 1857, and traveled to Shafter county, Missouri, and there tarried on General Sterling Price's plantation until May 11th, 1858, when he resumed his journey to the Pacific. In crossing the plains his train closely followed the advance of United States troops in Salt Lake, and, on arriving there in early July, the Mormon war was ended and the families of the soldiers were returning to their habitations from hiding in the fastnesses of the mountains. His brother purchased a field of volunteer wheat and reaped his stock. After a month's delay, the journey was resumed on Sept. 6th. In October he started to attend a grammar school in San Francisco and attended school in that city until May 20, 1861, when he was graduated at the State Normal school.

From the time of graduation until June, 1870, he taught in the public schools. Every change of schools was at his own option and for higher grade and increased salary. He held the highest grade diploma when he ceased teaching. During his teaching life he studied law at home, in law libraries and in various attorneys' offices, and was admitted to practice in 1870.

He was the law partner of Hon. J. F. Wendell at Vallejo for over two years, but when Wendell went into the district attorney's office he no longer being able to be a prosecutor, dissolved the partnership and went to Utah. In Utah he had the largest and most lucrative practice of his life before the United States courts. While his practice was sufficient to answer a reasonable ambition, he could not keep out of the Gentile fight against the Mormon High Priest and he became a constant writer to the Gentile papers under the nom de plume of "Pace Teller." The peaceful spirit of his life now is that "Pace Teller" for years used to pen in favor of the purity of American homes against a heinous priest-hood.

In April, 1882, he came to Fresno to assist Hon. J. F. Wharton as attorney in the trial of the case of Polley Heilborn vs. E. Harlan and others for water rights. D. S. Terry represented Polley Heilborn. In the trial the findings were in favor of Harlan and others and the defendants finally saved their water rights.

After this trial, he formed a partnership with Wharton, which continued for a number of years. In 1886 he became interested in mining and until 1894 he was most of the time in the foothills. In 1891 he came to this city and was chairman of the Republican convention, at which time he was nominated for the assembly against his earnest protest.

Soon after the election of this year he became an active member of the Hundred Thousand club, and so continued until with the club he became merged with the chamber of commerce. While a member of the Hundred Thousand club, a chairman of a committee on Cemetery avenue, he addressed letters to the presidents of all the women's clubs of Fresno inviting them to appoint committees to meet with this committee as invited. At this meeting an independent committee was constituted which secured the construction of the avenue after a strenuous effort and after it had interested the supervisors, lodges, churches and the general public.

He was a delegate in the Valley association and followed the meetings from Stockton to Bakerfield until circumstances forced him to give up this public work and devote his attention to his practice.

AGAIN ASK NEW VENUE

Willie Helm's Attorneys Present More Affidavits.

Affirm that Accused Boy Cannot Get Fair Trial—Motion Under Advisement.

For the fourth time since the present proceedings began, Everts & Ewing, the attorneys for Willie Helm, yesterday morning moved for a change of venue. Affidavits in support of the motion were presented, and were dwelt upon at some length by the attorneys in making the motion. Judge Church took the motion under advisement.

Of the two affidavits, one was from the defendant. It cited that 235 talesmen had been summoned and 151 had answered up to Friday night. Of this number 121 had been examined, and 98 excused for cause. The people had dismissed four on peremptory challenges, and the defense twelve. It was pointed out that out of this great number of talesmen only six had been found who could qualify as jurymen. To show the trend of public sentiment, the affidavit enclosed a newspaper clipping of a sermon delivered by Rev. Dr. Thomas Boyd on July 28th, in which he had commended the jury for the conviction of Elmer Helm.

The second affidavit was from an employee of Everts & Ewing, who on Friday night interviewed people about the streets. Out of forty-five business men, who had been questioned as they were met on the streets, forty-two had expressed their belief in the defendant's guilt and the impossibility of securing for him a fair trial in this county.

Samuel McAninch and Samuel Briscoe were passed temporarily yesterday morning. Five other men were excused for cause. Argument was heard from Helm's attorneys over the questioning of a juror, and the argument waxed so hot that Judge Church had to threaten to fine both men before they would desist.

Court adjourned at noon until tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, when it is believed Judge Church will render his decision on the latest motion for a change of venue.

Quiet Title Suit.

The suit of E. Siligman and others against E. W. Carr and others was heard yesterday morning before Judge Austin and taken under advisement. In 1888 a lot was deeded to the Valley View School district, with the provision that if it were not used for the erection of a school house it should revert to the donor. The school house was not erected, but before the donor legally secured his land again, it was deeded, through a mistake, it is claimed, to the defendant and others. The plaintiff bought land belonging to the estate of the donor, and this lot he claims is legally his property. It is to settle the question of ownership that he brought suit. The plaintiff is represented by M. B. and E. M. Harris and the defendant by Strother & Strother.

Suit Is Dismissed.

The suit of Jesse Harris against W. F. Rogers was dismissed yesterday on motion of Joel Smith, attorney for the plaintiff, after being in the courts since 1902. Harris brought suit to collect a note transferred to him by the First National Bank of Fort Collins. The note was issued in 1897 for $481. Suit was for the face value and interest, which would have amounted to a considerable sum in the nine years since the note was issued. The note has been settled, which was the cause of the dismissal of the suit.

FRANK REEDY'S BIG SUCCESS

Honesty in Harnessmaking Brought It.

His I Street Shop that Has Grown from a Small Beginning.

The story of the success of Frank Reedy, the I street saddler and harness maker, is a story of pluck and perseverance combined with fair and square dealing and the most competent workmanship. Five years ago, after a severe and protracted illness, Frank Reedy started in business with a small space and a bench in a stable, some tools, a thorough knowledge of his trade and a determination to win, as his entire asset.

Business came to him, and as work was turned out of his little shop, general satisfaction was felt and expressed by his customers. It was noticed that conscience went into his work. Nothing was allowed to go out about which any question could be raised. A faulty or questionable piece of leather was thrown away and Reedy stood the loss rather than impose it on his customer. If a completed job did not satisfy the harness maker himself, it was not permitted to leave the shop until all defects were remedied and the whole brought up to the exacting demands of Frank Reedy's standard of what constitutes first-class workmanship.

As this policy continued, the fame of Reedy's shop spread throughout the county. Customers told their friends that reliance could be placed on Frank Reedy as a harness maker; that not only was his workmanship excellent, but his prices were low. Orders came pouring in. It became necessary to secure larger quarters. Four times in the past five years has it been necessary for the enterprising maker of saddles and harness to enlarge his quarters. In his present shop, No. 849 I street, he carries a complete stock of goods suitable to his line of trade. This includes robes, blankets, harness of every description, saddles, whips, etc., etc.

The shop in which order work is done is well equipped with machinery and, with the two workers who are employed, therein, is capable of turning out large and small orders promptly and well.

Some of the stout, strong harness, made especially for heavy work, would be its fine appearance and superior merit, be entitled to a prize at the state fair. The fame of Frank Reedy's superior workmanship is still spreading, and new customers are coming right along to the I street shop. But there will be no falling off in the character or quality of the work done. Just as much care will be taken to preserve the reputation that the shop has won as was taken in the first place to gain that reputation. There will be no such thing as trading on or making merchandise of a well established name by Frank Reedy. The customer who comes today may be sure of the same conscientious consideration of his orders as was given to the first set of harness that was made five years ago on the little bench in the stable. Not only so, but he will have the benefit of the improved facilities and the up-to-date machinery that the shop now possesses. Mr. Reedy promises every customer good honest value for his money. He will continue to do his best to please all who entrust him with orders or trade in his store. He is building up a good, clean industry, which is creditable to Fresno, gives employment to Fresno men, and lastly gives the consumer the very best value for his investment. His harness is reliable. It wears. It gives satisfaction in every way, and that is what the customer wants. Reedy's I street harness shop will continue to grow in the future as it has in the past, and its success will continue to be as creditable to the town as it is to the proprietor of the shop.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Harry K. Thaw was examined at the Tombs prison today by three alienists retained by the prisoner's counsel. Thaw was persuaded by his mother to consent to the examination. Mrs. Thaw assured her son that the visit of the physicians was to determine his sanity rather than to establish his insanity.

EDUCATIONAL EVOLUTION.

There is a story that Stanford University is thinking of changing tuition to students in their first two years, not for revenue, but to discourage such students from coming. The report may not be correct, as to the form of the improvement, and it may not take any form very soon. But both universities have a great many more freshmen and sophomore students than they want, and it is an open secret that they would be better pleased if they had none at all. There is a growing feeling in universities everywhere that the work they are doing in these classes, which contain the majority of all their students, is not worth the trouble and could much better be done elsewhere. It is only the lack of that "elsewhere" that prevents the universities from simply dumping the whole freshman overboard. Chicago University has already gone so far as to distinguish these first two years as the "academic" colleges, and to put the students in them into a separate department under modified school-boy and school-girl discipline. And even with this separation of students, no effort is made to attract students to the "academic" school, which is regarded at best as a makeshift. There is little doubt that the universities are right. Precious are the traditions of the old college life in which the most valuable fact was that the choicest youth of the land were here segregated for four years in a place where nothing was expected to "pay." The whole trend of evolution is away from it. The university is a place for students with a definite purpose, who have some special thing to learn or to do: for research, for specialist and professional study. The "general culture work," which our universities have inherited from the old American college, is coming into less and less repute, and if not worse done, is at least done with less satisfaction than ever before. In Berkeley, for instance, nearly all the students in the pure "culture" courses are girls, and these are mostly studying not for culture, but to prepare to teach culture in the high schools, where it belongs. By a natural evolution, the general culture idea is extruding itself from the universities, and unless it can find somewhere else to go it will simply cease to be. Which would be a great pity.

In the East and Middle West, where a multitude of small colleges have been leading a precarious existence, under the blighting competition of the great universities, these colleges will doubtless come to do the work which the universities are rejecting. They can do it well, and it is work that much needs doing. In California these colleges are too few for the task. Probably in time, we shall develop six-year high schools in all the larger centers, which will offer to every student, in his own region, all the "general culture" advantages which modern education demands. Four-year high schools centered everywhere, and six-year high schools in every town of more than ten or fifteen thousand inhabitants, would make the general educational opportunities of the state complete and accessible. Then, with the normal schools to train teachers and the universities to train specialists, we shall have the best educational system that is or ever was in the world.

There ought to be a law against political speeches by Democratic candidates. The two contradictory things they have to say to the two halves of their audience could be put so much more plausibly in private electioneering, each argument to its appropriate hearer. Witness Bell, yesterday. "The issues are local," therefore, all you Republicans disregard party ties, and vote independently for me. The issues are national. Therefore all you Democrats throw down Hearst and Langdon, for their disloyalty to the Democratic party." Not quite in this language, but just as plain. Both arguments have their value, but not both to the same audience or either to a mixed audience.

Stockton had carriers have raised their wages to $6 a day, and maintain an initiation fee of $50 to keep new members out of their union. If business conditions in Stockton are such that had-carrying will bring $6 a day, so much the better for the had-carriers. But a union which will charge $50 initiation fee to keep itself a close corporation is entitled to only such terms as it can get by its own strength. It is entitled to no support from other unions.

One Blagge, who is running for Lieutenant Governor on the sidewalk ticket, breaks loose as follows:

"Having implicit confidence in the judgment, when properly aroused, of the plain people, I do not believe I am too optimistic in saying that I already perceive creeping over the black mountain of corruption the faint, rosy streaks of a dawn which will brighten into a new political day redolent with the perfume of reform and giving promise of years of decreasing taxes." And again the Republican is constrained to inquire, Why is an orator?

WHO TAUGHT HIM?

All of us, political preachers and wise men, have been warning the laboring men of the heinousness of class legislation and class parties. "Go into politics," we have told them, "but as citizens, not as laborers, uniting in parties, according to your convictions of general policies for all the people, rather than in a group, looking for special privileges for your own class."

It is good advice. But who first taught the contrary lesson? Who invented class arguments to get class votes? The spellbinders of the established parties. Who discovered the existence of the "German vote," the "Irish vote," the "Catholic vote," the "A. P. A. vote," the "labor vote," the "farmer vote," the "saloon vote," the "church vote," and all the rest, and appealed to the prejudices of these classes rather than to the civic convictions of their members? The very apostles, of course, of the parties which now deprecate class rule and class politics. And now that we find them taking seriously the lesson we taught only as a bluff, we wise men and preachers of pure politics and undivided are duly horrified. It is a just horror and we are quite right about it. Only we should have found it out before.

Altogether, the laboring man has learned his worst lessons from the very teachers who now decry them. Where did the workmen learn to use seal lists? From the black lists. Where did he learn the boycott? From the lock-out. Where did he learn that the only use of power is to oppress the other side? From that other side. Where did he learn monopoly and extortion? From the trusts. Where did he learn to prefer a clean field to get his rights by force, to a good law, to get them by justice? From "business." And where did he learn that the best way to get your rights protected "by appropriate legislation" is to keep your own bought retainers in public office? From the corporations. All had lessons; lessons that must be unlearned. But let not us, who taught him them, consider that we are the specially cleft, called to reprove him for learning them.

If Secretary Taft can get Cuba out of trouble and us out of Cuba, it will be a work of genius that ought to make him President of the United States and perpetual guardian of Cuba. Here's luck to him.

Hearst said yesterday "vote for the man; not for the party." Good doctrine. But how many would vote for Hearst on it?

SILENT OPINIONS.

Preconceived Notions of Men About Women, and Vice Versa.

Most men have some silent opinions about women, and most women about men. There are certain types of face, certain kinds of manner, certain methods of expression even, for which many men and women are utterly condemned in the minds of some of their brothers and sisters. A disposition to dislike certain types of face is at times so strong as to suggest a previous existence. We do not openly say that all women with small and such eyebrows are hard-hearted, or that a man must be a charlatan if the color of his eyes and hair contradict one another; but we act continually upon notions hardly less reasonable. Educated men with small vocabularies, for instance, are divided as a rule by clever woman into fools by birth and self-made fools, according to whether their want of equipment be ascribed to nature or to affection. To the first they are indifferent; to the latter they have almost always a more or less active dislike. Such men are often able, a fact their own sex invariably recognizes.

The man whose words are few and ill-chosen may be a man of prompt and reasoned action, who, having been brought up among the silent wise or the garrulous silly, deprecates the waste of pains occasioned by the game of talk. All mental athletes bore him just as physical athletes bore others. In the same way the fact that a man pretends to know no more words than a savage may be a matter of awkward though genuine humility—a fear of pretending to a culture he does not possess—or an act of superficial conformity to a passing fashion among a small set. It may have no more to do with his real mind than an ugly figure of an ill-cut coat. Circumstances will sometimes convince even a clever woman of these facts, so far as a given man is concerned, but she will never alter her silent opinion as to the general quality.

Clever women are very hard on the men they imagine to be fools. Able men, on the other hand, are not at all hard on women they know to be stupid. Where youth and beauty are concerned the fact is easily understood; but youth and beauty by no means explain the whole of this phenomenon. Many men are inclined to think that the kind of mental power in women which we colloquially call "brains" exists in inverse ratio to their common sense, and serves only to carry them with fatiguing rapidity through verbal fallacies to a false conclusion. London Spectator.

TWO THOUSAND PEOPLE GATHERED TO WITNESS WHIPPING OF NEGRO

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 22.—Before 500 persons, Charles Conley, the negro who was a few days ago sentenced to fifty years' imprisonment and to receive thirty lashes for committing an assault upon Mrs. Beatrice Frankish and her daughter, was publicly whipped today in the yard of the Newcastle county workhouse. More than 2,000 persons claimed admission to the workhouse yard.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—Three affidavits were filed by F. P. Tuttle, counsel for Adolph Weber, convicted of the murder of his mother and now under repressive with Governor Pardee today. The affidavits were made by George Duffy, William Coleman and Michael Brady, members of the San Francisco police force, and all swear Henry Carr's reputation is bad Carr is the crowdfollower who testified he sold Weber the pistol with which the crime was committed.

USES KNIFE ON COMRADE

Drunken Mexican Severely Stabs Companion.
Knife-Wielder Escapes, But Is Captured and Jailed After Hard Fight.

Because he would not lend his fellow workman a few dollars, Marlon Givon, a Mexican, lies in the county hospital with a deep gash in his side. The man who did the cutting is in the county jail, still quarrelsome and troublesome, too drunk to realize that he faces a grave charge. He gave the Chinese name of Quong Gin, but this of course is not his right name. The two men were employed together on a vineyard. Last evening they came to town and proceeded to get drunk on their week's wages. Givon had the largest roll of money, and his comrade wished to borrow some of it. Givon refused the loan. The man who calls himself Quong Gin insisted, and the men began to fight. They were at the corner of G and Tulare streets when the fight began, about 7 o'clock in the evening. While the scuffle was at its height Gin suddenly whipped out a knife and struck Givon a vicious blow in the side. Officers Amberry, Stevens and Goehring were attracted by the noise but before they arrived on the scene the knife-wielder had disappeared around a corner. They found Givon lying on the sidewalk in a pool of blood. He was taken to the hospital for treatment. During his stay he told just the circumstances of the fight and gave an excellent description of Gin. Plain Clothes Officer McSwain set out on a hunt for the fellow in company with Officer Enos, and finally located him in the Capitol saloon at the corner of Mariposa and G streets. Gin was very drunk and boisterous and fought the officers like a tiger. He was finally overpowered and started toward jail. On the way he broke from the officers and led them a chase of a block or more before he was retaken. He said at the jail that a brother of his had done the cutting. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

REPUBLICANS NAME LEGAL SUB-COMMITTEES

To Look Into "No Nomination" Question and Office of City Justice.

The Republican executive committee met last night and elected John W. Gearhart a member of the executive committee. A legal committee was appointed to look into the "no nomination" question, which four years ago cost R. N. Barlow the election. This committee will also look into the legal aspect of the office of city justice, discovered by Judge Graham. The committee consists of Frank Kanke, Stanton L. Carter and D. A. Cashin.

Big English Baseball scores. Americans who remember baseball before the days of the "pitchers' bat" may want their hearts with the season's records on English diamonds. Tottenham Hotspur has just beaten Leyton by a score of 25 to 8, and Clapham Orient has vanquished Fulham by 15 to 8. In ten games Woodwich Arsenal made 108 runs. Does a twelve-inning count of 1 to 0 really represent athletic progress over such action as this—N. Y. World.

From Valley Papers

A number of farmers were in town today, and all report a scarcity of help on the ranches. Many ranchers who have had boys to work at home and the boys grown and married and working for themselves. It is a question that is urgent—where is the help on the farm to come from? The Japs are scarce and so independent that they are not very agreeable help. The Chinamen ditto. Evidently the farmers will have to seriously consider the help question in the future. Over in Tulare county where the sugar beet factory has started up importations of peons and workmen of that class have been resorted to, but from reports we hear such help is very unsatisfactory, and is the source of much trouble in the police courts.—Hanford Sentinel.

There will be a meeting at Porterville on Saturday, the 29th inst., for the purpose of considering the proposition to build a railroad to the coast from this valley, beginning at Springville and from Porterville heading for Tulare. During the past few weeks this proposed enterprise has been widely discussed, and while some of the comment has not been of a nature to encourage the promoters, many persons have expressed themselves as believing that something tangible will eventually result from the agitation. The Register is inclined to that view. Possibly the road can be constructed and maintained by the people, but whether it can or not a concerted movement will do much toward attracting the attention of persons who can afford to build it and inducing them to examine into the merits of the proposition. At any rate, nobody should "knock" the enterprise, and every board of trade in the county should have a representation at the meeting on the 29th. As to the road that would result to the county from the building of such a road there will be no diversity of opinion, and the feasibility of the project should not be lightly questioned until it has been more fully discussed and we learn what backing it has.—Tulare Register.

All through the San Joaquin valley is heard the same story that is heard in this city—the public schools are crowded. The population of the valley is fast increasing. California needs more people and there is hardly a community in the state that does not need larger school buildings.—Tulare Advance.

Many persons who are engaged in business in the cities in this vicinity and many professional people are investing in small vineyard and garden tracts in this vicinity. No wiser investments can be made. If the Osler idea prevails that men's usefulness as clerks, teachers, preachers, etc., decay after they reach three score, a better, happier or health-giving occupation can be followed than those of horticulture and poultry raising. The man who owns a home of that kind has no fear of losing his job, or of having to make room for younger hustlers.—Stockton Independent.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The baseball is as blind as the bat. A girl likes to think that other girls think her attractive.
Most of the reform ideas of a missionary are heart-bush.
A man never forgets to say what he thinks when a horse steps on his foot.
A genius is a man who doesn't know whether he is eating boiled cabbage or stewed fudge.
In the case of mortal people the only photographs that do them justice are blue prints.
The average man would rather lose a dollar on a horse race than earn a quarter at hard labor.
Every time an angry man slams a door it lets the recording angel out of making a dash in the book.
Never trust a man who pretends he's bold or a woman who pretends that she's glad she has red hair.
Every girl has a mission in life, and in ninety-nine cases out of a possible hundred it is to acquire a son-in-law for her anxious mother.—Chicago News.

Our main feature this season will be the selling of high class goods at much lower prices than ever before. Our large experience, coupled with the best facilities in every way for doing business, makes this possible, and we are determined to follow out this plan from the very start.

Fair Sunday.
High barometric pressure occupies the South Atlantic coast and New England, accompanied by generally cloudy weather, with stationery temperature. Low pressure covers the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and the lake region, causing light rains over Northern Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois, Minnesota and a portion of the middle Atlantic states. The pressure continues high, with cool weather, over the Middle West, and fair, cool weather accompanies the slight depressions which cover the region west of the Rocky mountains. The weather is clear along the coast from San Francisco northward, and cloudy or foggy over the southern coast of California. The conditions are favorable for continued fair weather at Fresno and vicinity Sunday.

Erb, who last year taught the school in Merced district, this county, and who has many friends in Fresno, is this year teaching in the Bryant school at Dos Palos, Merced county. Miss Verna Carson of San Diego is her assistant. They have over one hundred pupils under their charge. Manuel Lopez, arrested as a vagrant and floated out of town with a thirty days' sentence last Thursday, and brought back again from Fowler as a suspect in the high hill transactions, was committed to serve his thirty days by Judge Briggs yesterday morning. Lopez says he will make a fight because he was brought back to town and didn't come of his own free will.

A class for high school students will be organized the same week, the exact date to be announced later.

Large numbers of men are signing for the men's classes and many parents are placing their boys in the association for the gymnasium exercises.

Other features to be promoted are basketball, hand ball, fencing, tumbling and indoor base ball. These sports are popular and there have been a number of inquiries about them. It is expected that the piano music to be played during the senior class hours will prove very attractive to the young men.

Mr. Fee asks that members who wish a physical examination before entering classes attend to it some time this week, but should notify him before hand.

IMBUED WITH FRESNO SPIRIT

Manager Davis of Chinn-Beretta Company Speaks Enthusiastically of the Raisin Center.

Herman Davis.

F. C. Jenks.

It is always gratifying when new industries come to Fresno and it is particularly gratifying when, after a short time here, the management becomes thoroughly imbued with Fresno spirit. That is the case with the Chinn-Beretta Optical company, which has been established in Fresno for six months and is now growing to keep up with its increasing business. This well-known house has six stores in California—two in San Francisco, and one each in Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno. Before the San Francisco disaster, it had but one store in the metropolis and that was destroyed, but in arising from its ashes, it arose in double capacity and has two stores now, one on Van Ness and one on Fillmore. In all the towns where the well-known optical house has established branches, it has in a very short time taken a position of supremacy and prides itself on doing more business in each town than all the other houses together.

In Fresno its success has been most phenomenal and after six months it has had to double its capacity and force. Herman Davis, the resident manager, who has been with the Chinn-Beretta people for many years, is enthusiastic over Fresno. "We have always had our eye on Fresno," he said in conversation with a Republican reporter. "We like the people, we like the town and the business outlook. The people are progressive, active and enterprising. Having stores in all the leading towns of the state north of Los Angeles, we have an excellent opportunity for judgment and we want to say that Fresno for business activity compares favorably with any of her sister cities. We take particular pleasure in this fact and in sneaking out about it because of the discouraging things that were told us when we came here to look over the field. We were told that Fresno was on the ragged edge, that the temporary prosperity was vanishing and more pessimistic. We were told that the field was overcrowded and all that, but it only took a glance about town to give the lie to all his despicable talk. Our business has been such as to completely confound the knockers, and in feeling grateful to the people of Fresno we want to vindicate the town from the reproach the knockers have placed upon it."

The Chinn-Beretta Optical company is located at No. 2015 Mariposa street, and the office is handsomely equipped and appointed. Back of the office are the work rooms equipped with machinery for grinding any lens to the exact degree necessary to suit the eye perfectly. The Chinn-Beretta people have found that it is absolutely impossible to exactly fit the eyes with glasses in any other way, and this is in a small degree the secret of their success. Their prices are identical in all the towns where they have stores. The business policy is absolutely square dealing. Nothing is misrepresented.

Under this policy, the business has doubled in six months and Mr. Davis has now associated with him F. C. Jenks, who comes here from San Francisco. He has been with the company for a number of years and is an expert refractor.

The Chinn-Beretta company is putting a new glass upon the market known as the Kryptok, the hidden eye lens. It is a remarkable optical contrivance designed to take the place of two glasses, one for long distance and the other for reading. A single lens is made to do double work. By a degree of mechanical nicety almost incredible, are put together, so that no line is discernible. With the old-fashioned glass there is a large degree of loss of energy, while the Kryptok conserves the eye energy, is restful and in appearance is far ahead of the old style double lens.

BEGINS THE YOSEMITE ROAD SURVEY TOMORROW

Engineer Newman Leaves for Fish Camp With Party of Fifteen.

E. Newman, chief engineer of the Fresno-Yosemite Railway company, passed through Fresno yesterday en route to Fish Camp, where he will begin the high mountain survey for the railroad. He brought half a dozen men with him from Los Angeles and made up the balance of a party of fifteen here in this city. The party he expects to have settled at Fish Camp tonight and to begin actual surveying tomorrow morning.

Newman wants to get the work from Fish Camp to Wawona completed before cold weather sets in. When that part of the line is completed, he will survey from Fish Camp to Crane valley. He expects to have the entire survey completed by spring, when the construction work on the road is to begin.

STEPHEN G. ARTHUR IS APPOINTED CITY EXPERT

Stephen G. Arthur was yesterday appointed by Mayor Lyon as city expert. His salary is to be $75 a month, and his appointment must, of course, be confirmed by the city trustees before it becomes legal. The mayor has for some time had the opinion that the city needed an expert employed all the time to inspect the books of all departments and check up its affairs and assist the finance committee in passing on the monthly bills. Arthur, his appointee, was formerly county expert and is a competent man for the place.

MAKES FIND OF DYNAMITE

Explosives Concealed Near Railroad Track.

But Bold, Bad Train Wrecker: Had Not Put Them There.

A box of dynamite, carefully concealed beneath a headgate near the Southern Pacific tracks in the neighborhood of the cemetery, was discovered last Tuesday by Constable Dumas. He reported his find to the railroad officials. Detectives hurried to the scene. There were visions of black-bengled ruffians howling with fiendish glee as whole train loads of passengers, victims of rap, fuse and dynamite, were hurled into the atmosphere in microscopic particles. There were conferences, deep and dark; suspicious characters were put under surveillance; clues were pursued with unrelenting vigor; and the man who hid the dynamite confessed.

He wasn't such a bold, bad, desperate character, either. Furthermore, he wasn't been arrested, and even these dynamiters do not suspect him of any intention of blowing up a train. The dynamite was put under the headgate by E. J. Crawford, construction superintendent of the San Joaquin Light and Power company. Crawford has been running a power line out Cemetery avenue. Post holes don't always dig evenly, and when Crawford's crew encountered hard pan, he began to blast. About a week ago he purchased from the Barrett-Hicks Co. a box of dynamite. Some of it he used. Then the crew got into ground where blasting was not necessary, and Crawford, not having any place to put the dynamite, hid it underneath a headgate of a ditch near where the gang was working. It was near the railroad, but not near enough, according to his statement, to be a menace to the safety of the road. There were no traps, and the only possible danger of explosion was from fire, which was about the last thing that could happen. In the box were thirty-three sticks of dynamite, sufficient to have done a lot of damage had it been under compression, but in the open not more than enough to have blown out the headgate.

Crawford had heard nothing about the discovery of the dynamite or the hunt for the desperate train-wreckers who had concealed it. Before he bought the box, he had been accustomed to buying small quantities from the Barrett-Hicks Co. He knew the company had a place to take care of it, and told A. B. McWhirter that he wanted to bring the box in and have it taken care of in the company's storehouse until he had need for it. "Where is it now?" asked McWhirter. "I've got it hidden out here in a ditch," replied Crawford.

McWhirter had been hearing much of that dynamite concealed in the ditch, and he promptly notified Crawford that the bloodhounds of the law were hot on his trail. Whereupon Crawford hunted up the bloodhounds and called them off the chase with the true story about the dynamite.

EX-SENATOR EMMONS HAS LOST HIS HOME

BAKESFIELD, Sept. 22.—Superior Judge Mahon this afternoon rendered a decision in the case of the Continental Building and Loan Association versus E. J. Emmons, the senator from this district, now in prison for his connection with the recent exposures of brooding in the senate, and Margaret Emmons, his wife, granting the plaintiff the sum of $8007.54 interest thereon at the rate of 7 per cent from the time of judgment. Suit cent from the time of judgment, and plaintiffs' cost of suit, all being a lien upon the mortgaged premises of the defendants in this city.

The litigation between the Continental and Emmons has extended over many years and was supposed to have had a hearing on the developments at Sacramento, while Emmons was in the legislature. The Emmons home in this city is now lost to the disgraced senator and his family.

Died on Sunset Limited. SALT LAKE, Sept. 22.—J. P. Rosenthal, a passenger on the Sunset Limited for Los Angeles, died on the train yesterday between Soledad and San Ardo. The body was brought back to Soledad for an inquest. Rosenthal carried a card of the stonecutters' union of Chicago.

TERRIFIC SPEEDS IN THE VANDERBILT CUP TRIALS

TWO HUNDRED AND NINETY-SEVEN MILES OVER A DANGEROUS COURSE WITH NINE TURNS IN 5H., 27M., 45 SECONDS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A vast throng, which rushed upon the course today, prevented the completion of the elimination race to select five American racing automobiles to take part in the race for the Vanderbilt cup, after three of the cars had completed the race. Joseph Tracy, who won the race, Herbert Leblon, second, and H. N. Harding, third, were the only racers who were allowed to enter the entire course. They thus qualified their machines for the cup race, and the judges selected marching orders by Herbert Leblon, Tracy and Walter Chrysler as the other two to represent American manufacturers in the big race.

Crowd Was Unruly. When Tracy crossed the finish line of the 297-mile journey, after a sensational race, in which he made one circuit of the course at a rate of a mile a minute, including nine turns, the great crowd of spectators which greeted him with a roar of cheers, thronged upon the course and crowded in a scramble to see and congratulate the winner. Leblon and Harding, who were on the tenth and last lap, had to drive their cars almost into the throng in order to get across the finish line, but the others racers, who were far behind, were unable to force their way through.

Stopped the Finish. Perceiving that the action of the crowd would prevent a fair finish of the remaining two qualifiers, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., the donor of the cup, and the judges ordered the race stopped and held a meeting to select the other two cars to qualify. Tracy and Christie were chosen because they were in fourth and fifth positions when the course was blocked. Lawell was pressing Christie closely for the fifth position.

Tracy's time for the entire course was five hours, twenty-seven minutes and fifty seconds, that of Leblon, five hours, fifty-one minutes and twenty-five seconds; Harding, six hours, twenty-five minutes and thirty-nine seconds.

Some Terrific Speeds. Notwithstanding that the course was regarded as more dangerous than over which the cup race was run last year, the drivers sent their powerful machines over it at a speed at times as high as 90 miles an hour and around sharp curves, only one of the racing cars was reported to have been smashed, and from that the driver, Mongini, and his machanician escaped without serious injury.

Twenty miles from the starting line the car driven by Mongini burst a tire and, turning out of the road, crashed into a telegraph pole and was badly damaged. Mongini was thrown out, but landed safely.

There were numerous minor accidents to the machines, chiefly due to the tires, so that the racers were trailed out at long intervals over the course and many had not half completed the distance when the winner finished.

Race Was Between Three. Throughout the greater part of the race the contest for first place lay between Tracy, Leblon and Lytle. Lytle led the others in elapsed time for the first two rounds. Leblon then took the lead, but attempted for the leadership in each round with Tracy until the tenth and last lap, and Tracy clung to his lead.

Tracy scored the swiftest record for the lap of the day, covering the 29.71 miles in 29 minutes and 29.3 seconds. This was in the sixth lap.

The Start and Before. Never was there a more orderly gathering of spectators than that which thronged at vantage points along the course at the beginning of the race.

The start was scheduled for 6 a. m., but the spectators began to gather even before midnight. Before the sun rose almost the entire course presented an unique spectacle. Clustered about the starting line was a great party of automobiles and strung along the crooked course were many hundred more.

Knowing that it would be hopeless to try to secure sleeping accommodations along any of the local villages, the spectators formed camps along the roadside for miles where they found parking places and many even brought camping outfits to prepare breakfast. The campfires and the glaring headlights of their cars marked the course long before daylight.

Hundreds passed the waiting hours in sleep in their cars. No circus ever invited a more massive gathering than these assembled in the villages along the line. The big grandstand on the south side of the course, midway between Jericho and Mineola, was crowded when the call for the first started went up.

Details of the Course. The race, called the elimination trial, was for the purpose of selecting five cars to compete for the cup race over the same course on Oct. 6th. The course is 29.71 miles long, and is a dangerous one, having nine sharp turns. It had to be gone over ten times. The course at Old Westbury is so sharp that it is known as "the hairpin" turn. The course was in fine shape, showers last night having laid the dust.

Ambulances Galore. The arrangements made by the managers of the Nassau hospital appeared more like preparations for a battle than two armies than provisions in connection with a contest of speed and skill. Eight ambulances were sent early this morning to various danger points along the course.

Sheriff Frederick Gildersleeve had made equally elaborate preparations to prevent injuries from encroaching upon the course. More than 500 deputy sheriffs and deputies had been stationed along the route over which the racers were to speed.

In drawing for the numbers for the corners, the so-called "unlucky number 13" was omitted.

Order of Starting. The automobiles got away in the following order: Time. Entrant.

SAYS SUNDAY LAW IS CLASS LEGISLATION

H. G. Thurston Believes It Is Not a Truly Religious Movement.

Editor Republican:

I respectfully beg space in your paper to present the views of many people of all trades and professions, who belong to nearly every church society in our country, also a multitude who are not church-goers at all—views which they hold as most sacred upon the present living issue, "Shall we have a Sunday law?"

Brought up to tell, I speak from the standpoint of a laborer, and my observation has proven that those who have the fewest religious laws have the greatest liberty. This fact may be substantiated by every true history, every written bearing upon the subject, history which many people already know and all may learn if they but take the time to read. If, therefore, in securing a Sunday law, less instead of greater liberty be the result, it cannot prove the failure here that religious laws have in so many instances before.

Again, very few, compared with the vast multitude of laborers, are denied one day of rest of the seven; and if any are conscientious about working every day in the week, there is a way to avoid it and yet earn no religious law, which is but to establish a very unfortunate precedent to guide our law-makers. If a man has religious scruples about working every day, he can quit his job if necessary and rely upon the Holy Author of our religion to provide another job which has often been done, for our God is not dead, and is ever ready to protect those who trust Him.

This would certainly be far better than to secure a human law which would abridge the rights of any citizen, and this has been done by nearly every religious law since the one enacted by Constantine, 321, A. D.

The great champions of the Sunday law idea recognize and freely state that to take the religion out of the day is to take the rest out; and that is what Sunday laws can be maintained except upon religious grounds.

This is fact, and being fact, the present call for a Sunday law is but the call for a human religious law, which can never give true liberty, and under our constitution can never of right be enacted.

It is contrary to our system of government, and could many of the most noble fathers of our land arise and speak, they would at once condemn every law which in any way savors of being religious as unworthy of our status books, "for our government is a civil and not a religious institution."

Sunday laws are class legislation, and if one class of citizens secures them, may not another class demand a law regulating the mode of baptism, another the manner of celebrating the Lord's supper, another church government, and on to the end of every religious institution, thus making of the law the words of Jesus when He said, "My kingdom is not of this world?"

Is there not a better way to gain the desired end than by civil legislation? Let the pastors and church workers seek the power of the living God, and by the teaching of His word enlighten men and educate their consciences, thus making religion a matter of the heart of the individual! In every many instances religious laws are conducive to produce religious bigotry and hypocrisy, two classes of people who do not, as a rule, make the best citizens or neighbors.

If in securing a Sunday law we will get in the end more than we want, let us seek safer fields and be content to walk in the paths where our prosperity and greatness have grown most satisfactorily.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

SANGER.

The High and Grammar schools opened up last week with the largest attendance on record for the opening of school. The former enrolled sixty on the first day, the latter 214. The opening class of the High school was unusually large, there being twenty-five, including the commercial pupils. The sentiment of the district is thoroughly aroused to the necessity of secondary education is shown by the numerous freshmen, there being five times as many entering as there are graduates.

Politicians are working over time in Sanger. That there will be hot times here on November 4th is shown by the fact that each day seems to quicken the political pulse that is rampant at this season. Candidates are here every day telling their troubles and making a special plea for a share in the public pie. Both parties are holding caucuses, though partisanship in county affairs is being divorced from the minds of the majority of voters.

The Rev. Mr. Rapp, better known as Brother Rapp, met with an accident last Tuesday that came near proving fatal. Dan Evinger and Rev. Rapp were repairing a gas engine on the latter's river bottom farm. The belt was thrown from the drive wheel and caught on some part of the engine, jerking the heavy machine to the ground. Rapp was caught and dragged to the ground. The heaviest part of the engine fell across his body. The use of a shovel was necessary to extricate him from the provisions milk.

Dr. Presley and Fleming were summoned immediately but the injured man was taken to his home in West Sanger before medical aid could be secured. Upon examination it was found that the hip bone had been broken and smaller injuries sustained in the back. Brother Rapp displayed patience and remarkable fortitude in his misfortune. While he will be in bed several weeks it is thought that he will be restored to full use of his limbs.

Example: Abundant hair plus dandruff microbes, plus a few years, equals baldness.

BALDNESS BEGINS EARLY

"Baldness begins in the young and increases, whether rapidly or slowly, up to fifty years." So says Dr. Sabouraud of Paris, the world's greatest authority upon diseases of the hair and scalp.

Dr. Sabouraud confirms Dr. Cuna's discovery that baldness is a contagious disease caused by a microbe. Ask your family physician about these two authorities.

Dr. Sabouraud goes further, however, and says that "Baldness as a chronic malady, is a disease not of old age, but of youth; in bald old men we simply see the result of a disease that has been slowly doing its work for many years."

The dandruff microbe is an invisible growth of vegetable character; minute fragments of it are easily passed from one head to the other, through the medium of public hair brushes, towels, etc.

In the hair these fragments are inert until they come in contact with the natural hair oil from the sebaceous glands of the scalp, when they begin to grow and form one colony after another; in a similar manner, dry fragments of yeast cakes are inert until they find the proper medium, when they promptly begin to "work."

On the back of the head, most of these fragments of microbe growth fall out of the hair before they find permanent lodgment in the sebaceous glands, and this is one of the reasons why baldness begins, and is often confined to the top of the head.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR

It is perhaps not unnatural that a very young man like Mr. Bell should be so much more than a mere personal aspects of the gubernatorial campaign. When he grows older and knows more he will get juster notions of things. Mr. Bell presents himself modestly as a savior of California in this crisis. He says, between "Herrin, Hearst and Bell," mindless of the fact that neither Herrin or Hearst are candidates for any office, and that in his own candidacy he is merely a representative figure. Bell, as a personality does indeed cut some figure in the situation, but he is remembered that personality is the least important of the considerations before the people in connection with the governorship.

For the sake of argument, let it be granted, since Mr. Bell will have it so, that personality is the foremost interest in the contest; and upon this basis let us consider which is the larger and worthier figure. Mr. Bell himself or Mr. Gillett. Mr. Gillett stands, first of all, for successful manhood, having raised himself by his own energy from a young hand in a logging camp to a commanding position as a lawyer, in his own community, and in his own profession, quite apart from his political character. Mr. Gillett stands for much for character, experience, judgment, and all round competence. Mr. Gillett's personal reputation, of course, has been widened by his political career, but quite independent of politics, he is a foremost man in his own part of the state. In his political character Mr. Gillett stands for eminent success. He has advanced steadily from one public service to another to the position in which we now find him. After one term in congress he was triumphantly elected to another, and would have been named for a third term by acclamation if he had not declined nomination to accept a large responsibility in connection with the governorship.

Now about Mr. Bell. We cheerfully admit that he is an agreeable, clean and altogether decent young man. He has led, we are led to believe, an eminently respectable life, a life colored by one striking incident. Four years ago in a political emergency he was elected a member of congress. When his term of service expired he offered himself for re-election, drummed the district diligently from end to end, but was not chosen. The congressional district preferred another man. This service of a single term in congress is the one circumstance that lifts Mr. Bell in a public sense, above the level of other young attorneys all over the state. He has yet no large and fixed character as a lawyer. He has simply the professional standing which belongs to a decent young fellow whom everybody regards as "growing" and "promising." His position as a citizen and as a professional figure is not comparable at any point with that of Mr. Gillett. Indeed Mr. Bell is chiefly known to the people of California in so far as he is known at all, as a politician, and his name is a familiar one in connection with those social orders commonly cultivated by men who seek voting connections. He is a diligent note-taker, pursuing without much respect to his personal dignities certain lines of social diplomacy which men of larger mold—men of the Gillett type—look upon with an amusement not mingled with contempt. Mr. Bell's personal decency we gladly concede, but in his public character he represents an anxious and persistent personal ambition. It is this which leads him to so magnify the personal aspects of this campaign, and to so far misjudge the relations to things as to classify his own personality as a paramount "issue."

The real issue is not a personal one but a political one. Shall we have a governor who stands for Republicanism and who will hold the influences of our state in close sympathy with the Roosevelt policy, or shall we have a Democratic administration that will array California on the side of Democratic theories and policies of government and put it in partnership with Mr. Bryan and his associates of the Democratic party? Here is the real issue, and it is the only issue worth considering.—Sacramento Union.

Harry Automobile Greave is emulating the successful campaign that Buckboard Jim Budd made for congress against Frank Page twenty-four years ago. But there are few as good rough-and-tumble talkers as Budd, and it remains to be seen if Mr. Greave is one of the few.—Salinas Index.

Last night's Examiner announced that W. H. Langdon would open the Independence League campaign at Dolores hall, and significantly added that "there would be room for everybody." It undoubtedly had in mind the large audience that greeted him in Oakland when he talked to sixty-eight people. There is little to be ample room in all meetings under the auspices of W. R. H. during the present campaign.—Visalia Courier.

Notwithstanding the fact that several state parties will be interpreted, the contest will be as between the two great political bodies and the fight will be to a finish. The Republican state convention has presented an exceptionally good ticket for the consideration of the people, and one that might reasonably be expected to receive the undivided support of the members of the party. This is not time for defection, and there is no reason why the entire state and district tickets should not be elected. Candidly there must be admission that the Democratic state convention made wise selections, and that is so much the better, for it will have a tendency to spur the Republicans to make a more active fight.—Marysville Appeal.

It begins to look as if the rear guard of the Democracy in this campaign is going to be no busy repelling the attacks of the outworn Hearst, that the advance guard will be able to make but very slow progress in directing its attack against the common enemy.—Napa Register.

That J. N. Gillett, candidate for governor of California on the Republican ticket, was not the man Herrin wanted to run is now generally conceded. Herrin wanted him, and wanted him bad. He knew he could not put his fingers on Gillett's neck and choke him into submission. He also knew that the people of California demand now more than ever a man of energy and independence, and he knew that the nomination of Gage meant the destruction of the Republican party. The public had a great admiration for Gillett, deservedly popular, and when Herrin saw the wave floating Gillett's way, Herrin seized a Gillett flag and began to wave it. No man will butt his head against a stone wall if he can mount the top of the land waving passing by. Herrin had his votes cast for Gillett because he had to do it. The reason he had to do it was that he dared not foist a railroad man on the party, for public sentiment would have downed him. The power of the people made the Republican party select Gillett as the nominee. Gillett is no more bound to Herrin than if Herrin had not voted for him, for Gillett is a masterful man, one who has had a successful career in California politics and has never yet tied to the railroad. He has made several notable fights against machine control and his work will always be strong for clean administrations.—Santa Ana Register.

As near as can be judged this soon after the proceedings a convention of union labor delegates yesterday endorsed Bell for governor. The convention met, wrangled and adopted a resolution to the effect that it would neither nominate a state ticket nor endorse any that was already in the field. Then it adjourned. Then it somehow got in session again, and approved Bell. But experts are to be called in to see whether the action taken amounts to a nomination. Evidently seems perfectly satisfied with the action except Bell. I am much more inclined to believe that Mr. Bell would not do him much good under any circumstances. But such approval coming the way this has will without any doubt handicap him. He wanted no public action but a private word sent down the line. The side show has taken on such character this year that a favorite plan of candidates is not to prevent the endorsement of others, but by the same influences keep their names off endorsement programs.—Alameda Argus.

The more one reads and hears of Mr. Gillett the more he is convinced that he is a man of action—one who does things and who will tolerate no nonsense. He is a man of force, of stability, and is just the sort of a man who is needed at the head of the state's affairs.—Berkeley Reporter.

Hearst's "Independent league" betrays that fine old kind of patriotism that deeply loves the old flag and an appropriation. Having financed the league into existence and possession, he is not surprising that he gathers a following, nor that in their convention they can get up their legs and howl vociferously for thirty odd minutes when their finances appear among them. The man who hunts nominations with a check book may always depend upon having an enthusiastic following.—Berkeley Reporter.

Your Democrat is always an optimist. He gets his political pleasures out of hope deferred. He is a patient waiter for something to come his way.—Berkeley Gazette.

When the Democratic state convention found that it had nominated Hearst's candidate for clerk of the Supreme court, the leaders were so much chagrined that they felt like calling the convention together again and taking his name from the ticket. Now comes the information that Edward Rainey, of Santa Barbara, the man in question, is so angry because the Democrats adopted a resolution eliminating Hearst from the Democratic party, and because the clapper of the Bell has been giving out such uncompromising estimates of the purposes and abilities of Mr. Hearst, that he refuses to run on the Democratic ticket at all.—Salinas Index.

Theodore Bell is now at the head of the Democratic state ticket (without the slightest chance to win out. Foolish man. He might have been returned to congress. Ambition is a glorious cheat!—Santa Cruz Sentinel.

Whatever may be said against the way the Republican state convention was run, nothing can be said in criticism of the personnel of the ticket nominated, James N. Gillett has a good record in private and in public life. He is popular with those who know him best. He is a good citizen and commands respect and confidence.—Santa Rosa Republican.

A journalistic was dubbed the Independence League the "Doodle Dees," another has nicknamed Mr. McNab's outfit the "Doodle Dees," and a third proposes to label the Union Labor state ticket, in case one is played in the field, the "Doodle Dums." Mr. Gillett will Yankee Doodle the whole bunch.—Oakland Tribune.

"Charles F. Curry for secretary of state" and "E. P. Colgan for controller" on the Republican state ticket, are familiar to the eyes of Californians, and very acceptable to the people at large. These two men, in their respective offices, have made records for efficiency and fidelity rarely equalled in the annals of any state.—Merced Star.

Mr. Gavin McNab and his friends have been holding a meeting in Sacramento which Mr. McNab, with his dry Highland humor, designated a Democratic convention. There were others present, of course, but they did not count, seeing that they really had nothing to say in fixing up the program, nominating the candidates and framing the platform. Some of Mr. McNab's enterprising followers were also in attendance to lend Mr. McNab a helping hand in case of a pinch and to hush for the Hah. Theodore Bell at the right time.

It is needless to say that the organization remains in the hands of its friends, to wit, Mr. McNab and his friends. This, of course, was not entirely unimpeachable nor inappropriate under the circumstances, as Mr. McNab some time ago discovered that a small and select party was easier to manage than a larger and more cumbersome one, although it might never win a fight. So Mr. McNab has performed the trick of political leadership heretofore deemed impossible of making the tail swallow the dog. However, this feat was made easier by the fact that the dog has several times within recent years refused to swallow the tail or even attempt to do so.

Mr. McNab's assemblage has performed the duties for which it was called together and adjourned, hilariously ringing of bells indicative of a readiness to run whenever the right tail sounds. It is not individuals to remark that the bells used are such as are usually worn by cattle. William Randolph Hearst was denounced with much heated verbiage and bad grammar, and a candidate nominated for governor to render impossible the election of William H. Langdon. As the Hearst newspapers had previously denounced the assemblage as a mere factional gathering and exposed its real purpose in advance of action, the epithets and charges so freely hurled at their proprietor were only a natural exhibition of temper. Mr. Bell, the nominee for governor, fulfilled his part of the program by aiming a blow at Mr. Hearst's candidacy for governor in New York by assailing him personally at a time when Mr. Hearst was likely to get the Democratic nomination in the Empire State.

The platform was a palpable attempt to seize the Hearst thunder, being largely copied from the demands set forth by the Independence League.

So, it must be candidly admitted that Mr. McNab and his friends have done what was expected of them. In that sense, their gathering was a success and its work a triumph for the political skill of Mr. McNab. As the aim was to defeat the ambition of Mr. Hearst rather than an attempt to elect anybody or present a vigorous opposition to the Republican ticket, the effect will be only to increase the majority of Mr. Gillett and his associates. A party as greatly in the minority cannot split into two irreconcilable factions and hope to defeat a strong confident and united majority.—Oakland Tribune.

The Democratic press of the state is informing us from day to day that the nominee for the office of governor, Mr. Theodore Bell, is a very good and very great man. Some go so far as to say that he is a "whole platform in himself." Remembering the definition that a political platform is like that part of a car—something to get in on—this may be true of Mr. Bell. But if he is the embodiment or exponent of great political principles it is worth while to ask when he began to occupy that important position.

We hope we will not be misunderstood. We have no desire to belittle Mr. Bell. We only desire to save him from some ridicule brought on by his over-zealous partisans. Mr. Bell is not a great man nor a leader of political thought. We have none such in the state in any way. It is the truth, albeit somewhat unpleasant one, that California has not produced in recent years a political genius of any note. In general sagacity, we accord Mr. Bell equal stature with Mr. Gillett and Mr. Langdon, but neither of these is a "whole platform." Mr. Bell has served one term in congress. Is there a single reader of these lines who can name a conspicuous thing that he did or which he advocated while there? We will enlarge the period—while he was there before he went or since his return? Again we say we are not trying to belittle the nominee. In these particulars he has done as well perhaps as any other one-term congressman, but no better. He may have done as well as any other young man in the state, in the art of statecraft, but as we before said, none has been conspicuous or earned the title of leader of political thought and action.

Mr. Bell says in quite a loud voice that he is going to smash several bosses. Again we beg to inquire, when did he begin. He names Hearst as standing at the head of the list of those whom he is to destroy. When did he lose pleasant companionship with him? During both of his terms for congress the Hearst papers were valiant aids, and while he was in office they sustained and defended his course. Up to a fortnight ago, Mr. Bell expected to make a third race for congress, and without a doubt he counted on the cordial support of the Examiner. Mr. Hearst and his papers have never been denounced by Mr. Bell. They were virtues or endurable evils while helping to put Mr. Bell in congress. Why this threat of destruction now? They are neither better nor worse today than they were yesterday.

There are others besides Mr. Bell who are of a sudden in the Hearst destroying business. One hears a good deal of angry denunciation of the journalist and his papers coming from those who have for many years found in them a guide, philosopher and friend, and we marvel at this change of feeling. If they have parted company on some of their articles of faith is that ground for angry and violent denunciation? They do not appear to be very far apart now. Both have changed their bases of operations, but that is Democratic of late years. Today's creed is tomorrow's enemy. But if in finding some new issues Hearst and his followers have wandered apart the latter need not get so mad about it. The next turn in the road and it will soon be reached—may bring them together again.

We hope Mr. Bell will not be a party to his own belittlement. He has not grown in one night to fit the clothes of a giant. He is a respectable gentleman of moderate attainments and if he renounces the state in that attitude he will challenge the respect of his fellow-partisans and opponents alike. But if he assumes the role of Jack the Giant Killer he will be laughed at.—Bakersfield Echo.

A correspondent of the Oakland Tribune, writing of state politics and the "leading" of Hearst out of the Democratic party, as was done at Sacramento the other day, says that the Democrats have read to many Democratic left of the party that there is no party left. He is absolutely right. Hearst made Bell, now read his maker out of the party. Funny, isn't it?—Hanford Sentinel.

Certain it is that even the Tulare Register will fail to accuse the Fresno Republican of being biased by the railroad influence. There is no daily paper in California that has been more outspoken against the so-called "railroad influence" than the Republican. There is not a man in California who has risen to the dignity of standing in the political limelight who is more immune to the charge of being a "railroad hound" than is Frank H. Short. Both the Republican and Mr. Short are satisfied with the nomination of J. N. Gillett for governor. The Sentinel is pained to note that a few papers like

TWO SCORE CHILDREN

President Smith of Mormon Church May Be Arrested.

His Fifth Wife Gave Birth to Child and Prosecution Is to Result.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 21.—Parley P. Christensen, county attorney of Salt Lake county, today was cited to appear on Wednesday next in the criminal division of the state district court before Judge Armstrong and show why he should not direct the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church, on a charge of sustaining unlawful relations with one of his live wives.

The citation was issued on the petition of Charles Mastyn Owen, who has been active in gathering testimony against Senator Smith in the proceedings before the United States Senate committee on privileges and elections.

On Sept. 11th Owen appeared before a justice of the peace and swore to a complaint making a statutory charge against President Smith. The complaint was based upon the fact that on May 21st last, President Smith's forty-third child was born to Mary T. Schwartz, Smith, the Mormon president's fifth wife, at her home in this city.

As witnesses to the fact the complaint cited the four other wives of President Smith and several apostles and leaders of the Mormon church, including Senator Smith and Governor Cutler.

TWO LIVES LOST IN FIRE AT TACOMA

Property Valued at $150,000 and Many Horses Were Destroyed In Little Time.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 21.—Fire which burned at terrific rapidity destroyed property last night valued approximately at $150,000. As a result Mrs. Peterson and Frank Krause are dead.

The property lost waste by the flames includes the Tacoma eastern railroad depot and warehouse and four freight cars; the Puyallup bridge, a large livestock building, saloon, restaurant and vacant store and two dwelling houses. In the livestock building were over 150 horses, many of them of blooded stock. Less than half a dozen escaped.

The fate of Mrs. Peterson was settled this morning by finding portions of her body almost completely incinerated. The body of Frank Krause was found in the ruins this afternoon. Five of the horses burned were valued at $30,000. They were Joe Wonder, peer, with a record of 2:20; Danville, peer, 2:08; Llewellyn, trotter, 2:10; and Max W., a green peer, all owned by Captain George Thomas, a turfman of Buffalo, New York, and the famous coach horse Apogee, owned by Laughlin Brothers of Columbia, St. Paul and Kansas City.

The Tulare Register, which in the past have proved themselves "safe and sane," are now in the second stage of senescence. They are unable to take the dose of defeat, such as we all have often to take, without making a circus of themselves. We believe that should Gillett be elected, and he will be, that A. J. Pillsbury may be retained in the governor's cabinet if the Tulare Register will return to its senses. Mr. Pillsbury has proven himself a capable man as secretary of the board of examiners.—Hanford Sentinel.

S.S.S. 40 YEARS OF CURES

There is a familiar saying, and a true one, that "Time proves all things." When a medicine has stood this test for a period of forty years and is then more in popular favor than ever, there is no doubt as to its merits. This is the standard by which S. S. S. has been measured, and its record of forty years of cures fully justifies its popularity as a blood medicine. For nearly half a century this great remedy has been used in the treatment of blood and skin diseases of every character, and so satisfactory have been the results that it is now the best known and most widely used blood medicine in the world. The success of S. S. S. is based upon the fact that it has always done everything claimed for it; it has maintained the confidence of the people because it deserves it. The constantly increasing demand for S. S. S. is the result of the good words spoken of it by those who have been cured of disease by its use, and know from experience that it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. ITS FORTY YEARS OF EXISTENCE HAVE BEEN FORTY YEARS OF CURES. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other diseases due to an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, there is nothing that equals S. S. S. It counteracts and drives out the germs and poisons, cleanses the system of all unhealthy

Gentlemen—For several years I was a sick man. Just what was the matter I do not know, but I do know I was indeed a sick man and could get nothing that would bring me out. I tried local doctors, specialists, highly advertised tonics, pills, compounds, and everything that was recommended to me. Last winter my trouble was at its worst. I was unable to work for several months, lost in flesh, had no ambition or energy whatever, and was extremely nervous. I became alarmed as to my condition. I asked a friend of mine what I should do, telling him if I did not get something shortly to build me up that I would not last much longer. He told me S. S. S. had done him a world of good in some chronic trouble and strongly advised me to begin it. I did so, but must admit with little faith, as I had tried so many things without benefit. Immediately my glad surprise to find I was actually improving after using a few bottles of the medicine. Of course I continued on with the medicine with the result that it put me on my feet again and made me a well man. I believe my blood had gotten very weak and impure, and as a result my general system became so run down and debilitated that I would have given away under it had I not fortunately gotten hold of your S. S. S., the greatest of all medicinal preparations, in my humble opinion. Wooster, Ohio.

delicate members and tissues of the body. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind. If you are in need of a blood remedy do not experiment with unproved medicines, but get S. S. S., the remedy that has the endorsement of millions of people, and one that has proved its worth by its forty years of cures. All sufferers from blood or skin diseases are invited to write our Medical Department, stating their case, and our physicians will take pleasure in giving any medical advice needed, and will send our books on the different diseases. We make no charge for the advice or the books.

RAILROADS FOUGHT AGAINST LA FOLLETTE

General Manager Testified That Employees Were Given Leave of Absence to Do Politics.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 21.—Late this evening the state railroad and warehouse commission, which is conducting a hearing regarding the reasonableness of commodity rates, decided to "take the lid off" with reference to testimony which Attorney James Mannahan of the Receivers and Shippers' Association has been endeavoring to get into the records for the past two days, concerning money alleged to have been spent by the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha in an attempt to defeat Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin in his last gubernatorial campaign.

With a free hand then, Mannahan questioned General Manager A. W. Trolan regarding the allowing of employees of the road to leave their duties to enter the political campaign and the payment of their expenses from the earnings of the road. Trolan admitted that he had allowed leaves of absence in ten or fifteen men to do political work in Wisconsin during the last campaign of LaFollette for the governorship. He admitted that the railroad had paid $300 for expenses incurred, besides allowing the salaries of the men. He said that personally he had only honored vouchers for the amount, but admitted that other sums might have been paid without his knowledge.

The hearing will be continued Monday.

SONORA PRINCIPAL BEFORE STATE BOARD

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 21.—The case of Professor Nolan, principal of the Sonoma schools, was before the state board of education all the afternoon and upon the request of Nolan for a speedy verdict it was decided to render it tomorrow.

Former State Senator Bert Schlesinger, who acted for the "Fathers' Club" of Sonoma, urged on behalf of 160 members of that organization that Nolan's state certificate be revoked. Attorneys Frank Sprague and W. F. Cowan appeared for Nolan.

Nolan is charged with unprofessional conduct toward some of the young women who attended his school and he was vindicated by the Sonoma board of education.

HARRIMAN'S LATEST RAILROAD ABSORPTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The World today states that negotiations are in progress between E. H. Harriman, William Rockefeller and the Smith estate by which control of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad may be turned over to the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific companies. Upon the success of these negotiations will depend the carrying out of the deal by which the Baltimore and Ohio is to become part of the Union Pacific system. The World says that this statement was made yesterday by a high Wall street authority, who predicted that within sixty days the terms of the deal would be made known.

EXTERMINATING RATS REDUCES THE PLAGUE

LAHORE, India, Sept. 21.—The supposed close connection between rats and the plague is considered to have been proven by the extraordinary success in decreasing the scourge which has resulted from the war of extermination against rats that has been carried on in sixty towns in the Punjab. The operation is still incomplete but the experiment is regarded as of immense importance in view of the fact that a million people already have died from the plague in the Punjab alone.

In consequence of good rains, assuring good crops, the vast stock of wheat held in the Punjab will immediately be liberated for export.

WHALERS IN THE ARCTIC

Supply Steamer Returned With News of Ships.

Terrible Suffering Due to Lack of Food—Charges Against Captains.

SEATTLE, Sept. 21.—The steamship Harold Dollar, Captain Tilling, which carried supplies to the whaling fleet in the Arctic, reached port last night. Thirty-one men of the wrecked whaler Alexander and fifteen sick men brought down on the vessel. She also brought whalebone valued at $30,000, which had been loaded on her from the different ships.

The Dollar met the fleet at Point Barrow and delivered the stores and foodstuffs and coal. The entire fleet, with the exception of the whaler Janette, is to return this season, unless they are caught in the ice, which was reported to be fast closing in when the Dollar left.

The men also confirm the stories of "stealing of native girls from their homes for immoral purposes and say that full depredations regarding these charges were taken before they left. Charges of brutality and insubordination are also made against Captain Thurston and Captain John Cook, master of the Helga.

SOME MARVELS OF PRESENT DAY SURGERY

STUTTGART, Sept. 21.—Professor Garro, of Breslau, gave yesterday in the Congress of National Investigation and Medicine, now in session here, the result of his experiments in transplanting blood vessels and organs from one body to another.

The professor declared that while it was impossible to transplant large blood vessels from living human beings, blood vessels could be taken from freshly amputated limbs and transplanted to cases where large tumors had been removed or where otherwise the tying in of large blood vessels resulted fatally for the parts of the body fed by them. Professor Garro described also the transplanting of kidneys from one animal to the other, the re-planting organs performing their functions perfectly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—Former Mayor James D. Phelan, in a signal communication to the Bulletin, protests against the endorsement by the water committee of the board of supervisors of the Bay Cities Water company's project to supply San Francisco with water for a consideration of $10,500,000. He declares that a much better supply can be obtained at a merely nominal cost from the Hetchy-Hetchy valley, a portion of the Yosemite National park, and calls upon the people to prevent, if possible, the adoption by the board of supervisors of the report of its water committee.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—The trial of Malcolm T. Vance and George Simmons, charged with the murder of Heber C. Tilden, a prominent relief worker, on April 22nd, began before Judge Carroll Cook today. Tilden was returning from San Mateo in an automobile flying a Red Cross flag and was accompanied by R. G. Seaman, a millionaire. At twenty-seventh and Guerrero they were challenged by a self-constituted citizens' patrol and, not stopping promptly, a volley was fired which instantly killed Tilden. Three witnesses were examined today.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

A Review of Fourteen of Those Proposed By the Last Regular and Special Session of the Legislature.

(By Ernest Klotter.)

At the election to be held in California on the 6th day of November, 1906, the voters will have submitted to them for their approval or rejection, fourteen amendments to the constitution of this state. In this manner perhaps, does the voter exercise the highest duties of good citizenship, and of a popular democracy, and by the intelligence which he here casts his ballot, may be measured his fitness or unfitness for self government and citizenship. Here the voter cannot evade the responsibility which devolves upon him, by electing others to make the laws for him, for here he himself becomes the lawmaking power and must accept or reject the law. Certainly the voters of California deserve a great deal of commendation for the intelligence with which they have heretofore voted on the constitutional amendments submitted to them.

Of these fourteen amendments, ten were adopted at the regular session of the legislature in 1905, and the other four were adopted at the special session of the legislature held last June. Of these latter four, three relate to the government of cities, and arose out of the earthquake disaster at San Francisco and San Jose. Owing to the fact that many of these amendments embody the entire section of the constitution sought to be amended, and contain only slight changes in a few words, without anything therein to show wherein the amendments consist; or else consist of additions made at the end of sections, without giving the original section which is being amended, it is impossible for any one to tell of what the amendment consists, without a careful perusal of the original sections of the constitution, and a comparison thereof with the differences. As a matter of fact, the voters are not in a position where they can do this, not having the recently amended copies of the constitution, if at all, at hand. I shall attempt here to briefly review these amendments, showing wherein they consist, and perhaps making some passing remarks thereon.

Amendment No. One. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 28.) This is a new section sought to be added to Article XI of the constitution, to be numbered Sec. 10, 1-2, and provides for the deposit of money belonging to the state, or any county or municipality in the state, in national banks, or other banks organized under the laws of this state, upon furnishing as security for such deposit bonds of the United States, of the State of California, or of any county, municipality or school district in the state, to an amount in value of at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of such deposit; provided that the bank shall pay not less than 2 per cent interest on the daily balances, and limiting the amount to be deposited in any one bank. This amendment will not do much good, as the deposit of the public money with added safeguards, in providing that the banks shall give security in the form of bonds for all deposits made with them.

Amendment No. 2. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 2.) This amendment is to Section 16 of Article XX of the constitution. This section as it now stands provides that the term of any officer or commissioner shall be declared by law, and if not so declared shall be during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment, but in no case shall such term exceed four years. The amendment provides that in municipalities governed under a charter, the provisions of the charter as to the tenure of office and the dismissal of any officer or employee shall control.

Amendment No. 3. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14.) This amendment makes some slight changes in Sec. 8 of Article XI of the constitution. This section provides for the framing of charters in cities. This section provides that such charter must be consistent with and subject to the constitution and laws of this state. The amendment does not require that such charter be consistent with and subject to the laws of this state, but only requires that it be subject to and consistent with the constitution. This would make the provisions of the charter superior to the state laws, but not to the constitution. The amendment also provides that after having framed a charter, a new one may be framed, and contains some slight changes in the wording of this section, which does not materially change it.

Amendment No. 4. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13.) This is a new section numbered 13-12 to Article XI of the constitution, providing that "Nothing in this Constitution contained shall be construed as prohibiting the state or county, city and county, city, town, municipality, or other public corporation, issuing bonds under the laws of the state, to make said bonds payable at any place within the United States designated in said bond."

Amendment No. Five. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 11.) This amendment, which is in Section 17 of Article VI of the constitution, relates to the salary of the judiciary. The legislature in 1905 raised the salary of the Supreme judges of San Francisco from $4000 to $6000 per year, while the salary of the justices of the Supreme court was raised from $8000 to $8000 per year. As this section of the constitution now stands, only those judges elected since the adoption of this raise in salary, would be entitled to the raise, as it provides that the salary of the judges "shall not be increased or diminished after their election, nor during the term for which they shall have been elected." The effect of this provision is to prevent those judges who were elected before the salary was raised from receiving the benefit of the increase, which would apply to those elected after its adoption. This amendment repeals that provision which says that the salary shall not be increased or diminished during the term of any judge elected, in all these cases where the salary has been raised, thus leaving the hold-over judges as well as those elected after the raise of salary to receive the benefit of the raise.

Amendment No. Six. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14.) This amends Section 15 and 19 of Article V of the constitution. Section 15 adds new duties to the office of lieutenant governor, and provides that in case of the permanent disability of the governor he is to become governor. He is to visit and examine the public institutions of this state, and to make report to the governor and legislature as to their condition thereof. The amendment of section 19 of this article comes in conflict with Amendment No. 9, heretofore to be referred to, which is also an amendment to Section 19 of Article V of the constitution, and conflict with this amendment. Each of these amendments fixes the salary of state officers, and each fixes them in a different manner. This amendment leaves the salary of all of the state officers as they now are, with the exception of the office of lieutenant governor, whose salary is raised to the sum of $1000. As this section of the constitution now stands he receives the same per diem as is allowed in the speaker of the assembly, namely $10 per day, to be paid during the session of the legislature only.

Amendment No. Seven. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 20.) This amends section 7 of Article XII of the constitution, which as it now stands provides that "The legislature shall not extend any franchise or charter, nor permit the forfeiture of any franchise or charter of any corporation now existing, or which shall hereafter exist, under the laws of this state." The amendment completely reverses this, and provides that no corporation may be extended for a period not exceeding fifty years, at any time before the expiration of its corporate existence, by two-thirds of the members thereof, or by two-thirds of the corporate stock.

Amendment No. 8. (Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 5.) This adds a new section numbered 13 to Article IX of the constitution, and provides that the Cowsell Polytechnical college, an institution for the advancement of learning, situated at San Francisco, be exempt from taxation.

Amendment No. 9. (Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 12.) This is the amendment already referred to, which amends Section 19 of Article V, which is sought to be amended by Amendment No. 6, and which is in conflict with that amendment. In amendment number six the salary of the lieutenant governor is fixed at $4000 per annum, and the salary of the governor and other officers was left as before. By this amendment number nine, the salary of the governor is raised from $6000 to $10,000 per annum, and the salary of the secretary of state, controller, treasurer and the salary of the attorney general from $3000 to $5000 per annum, and the salary of the lieutenant governor from $1000 to $6000 per annum. The lieutenant governor is allowed the same per diem as may be provided by the law for the speaker of the assembly, to be allowed only during the session of the legislature, which is $10 per day. Thus we see that we have two absolutely inconsistent amendments to the same section, each fixing a different salary for the state officers.

Now the legislature came to adopt these inconsistent amendments to the same section it is difficult for us to surmise. Perhaps it can be explained in part by reason of the fact that one of the amendments originated in the assembly and the other in the senate. Certainly should both of these amendments carry, it would raise an interesting question as to which would prevail. Whether the salaries would be as provided for in amendment number six or as in amendment number nine. The votes will perhaps solve the question by voting down both of these amendments.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12.

This is an amendment to Section 15 of Article XI of the constitution. As the section now stands, no county, city, town, etc., can contract a debt which shall run for a longer period than forty years. This amendment allows the city of San Francisco and of San Jose, and the town of Santa Clara to contract indebtedness which may run for a period not exceeding seventy years. This amendment is no doubt for the purpose of enabling these cities to reconstruct the public buildings which were destroyed by bonds issued covering a long period of time, thus lightening the burden of taxation in each year.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 2.

This is a new section numbered 20, which is proposed to add to Article XI of the constitution. This is to enable the city of San Francisco, at any time within two years after the adoption of this amendment, to acquire lands by purchase, condemnation, donation or exchange, to be used for streets, parks, boulevards, reservoirs or esplanades, and to make changes in streets, etc., for the improvement of the city.

PRICES CURRENT

CHICAGO: The wheat market opened higher today on light receipts in the Northwest and reports from Argentina that the crop there is being extensively damaged by locusts. Under these influences December wheat advanced to 75¢, but local traders sold actively on the bulge and the market dragged somewhat until the close. Offerings, however, were scarce on the decline and prices rallied quickly. Cables were reported heavy as the result of yesterday's market here. Minneapolis reported that cash houses in that market were selling December wheat and also sent a report that Northwestern shippers are storing wheat because of their inability to get over. These things, together with the weak effect of market rumors, had the effect of making traders cautious. December opened unchanged to 1/4¢ lower at 74 1/4¢, sold unchanged to 74 1/4¢ and closed unchanged to 74 1/4¢.

Corn was quiet for the greater part of the day. December closed 1/4¢ lower at 43 1/4¢.

The oats market was quiet. December closed easy, 1/4¢ lower at 33 1/4¢.

Provisions ruled higher on a small run of hogs and on an advance of 3¢ in the price at the yards. There was excellent buying of lard throughout the day. At the close January pork was 1¢ higher, lard was up 2 1/2¢ and ribs gained 2 1/2¢.

DR. SWEENEY FOR CORONER

An Office a Physician Should Fill.

By Professional Training and Personal Character, the Republican Candidate Is Well Qualified for the Position.

[Dr. A. W. Sweeney of Sanger, Republican nominee for Coroner.]

Dr. A. W. Sweeney of Sanger, the Republican nominee for coroner, possesses qualifications for the office that will appeal strongly to the people of the county. In the first place, he is a physician, and there is a very strong and very just sentiment that this position should be filled by a physician.
In the second place he is not running for the office in the interest of any particular undertaking, establishment, but will divide the business fairly between all the undertakers in the county.
He will pursue the same fair and just policy in regard to autopsies.
There will be no discrimination among physicians, each receiving a fair share of the work. This policy, together with the Doctor's popularity it is generally conceded, will insure his election by a large majority.

Dr. Sweeney is a native son, having been born at Truckee, and is 37 years old. He was early thrown upon his own resources and he has attained his present professional position by his own efforts. After receiving a common school education, he taught school for two years, when his health failed under the confining work. He was not afraid of hard work and he obtained a railroading. He began as a brakeman and later was advanced to locomotive freeman, following this strenuous occupation for over a year. He had determined to study medicine, and from his savings as a railroad man, he was enabled to spend two years in college. Not being financially able to complete his course, he engaged in nursing in the Fresno county hospital, first under Dr. W. T. Maupin and then under Dr. J. D. Davidson. Returning to college he completed his course with high standing. After graduation he held a position under the government as surgeon of the Pyramid Lake reservation and then went to San Francisco, where he was police surgeon for one year. He resigned this position to assume the duties of surgeon to the Sanger Lumber company, retaining this position for seven years and giving excellent satisfaction to the company and to the men, all of whom held him in high personal esteem. In 1900 Dr. Sweeney took charge of the county hospital during the absence of the county physician.

Dr. Sweeney, in addition to the certificate he holds from Copper Medical College, has a certificate from the New York Post Graduate College of New York City. He is a member of the Fresno County Medical Society and the San Joaquin Valley Medical Society.

Dr. Sweeney has lived in Fresno county since 1893 and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the county. On account of his residence and practice he is especially well-known and liked in the eastern and southern parts of the county.

Dr. Sweeney enjoys high standing in medical circles, having a high sense of honor and professional honor. He is a man of family and a substantial citizen in every sense.

ELLEFORDS' FIRST WEEK PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

The Elleford company presented Oliver
Bond Brown comedy melodrama,
"The Plunger," last night to a packed house, and every member of the company did good work. The scenic settings were realistic, and the production, taken as a whole, was one of the best of the engagement. Tonight will witness the great farce success, "A Royal Reception," the bill used for the opening. It was a hit on Monday night and should repeat to a big house.

The second and last week opens tomorrow night with the laughmaker of two continents, "Are You a Mason?"
This is the first time that this farce has been seen at these prices. The bill for Tuesday is the story of today, "The Red Cross Nurse," a pretty stage picture of the balance of the engagement as follows: Wednesday, the scenic story, "My Tommy Girl"; Thursday, the pastoral drama, "For Her Children's Sake"; Friday, Robert and Henrietta; Saturday matinee, "For Her Children's Sake," featuring the clever Osborn children; Saturday night,
the humorist, "Are You a Mason?"

The engagement closes on Sunday night with the comedy melodrama, "The Plunger." New specialties will be introduced by the Osborn children and Muttie Lloyd Lane. Seats are now on sale for the balance of the engagement.

Mrs. L. M. Bowen of the St. Helena Sanitarium is visiting her brother, A.
P. Darling and family at Lone Star.

Mrs. W. H. McGillevray has returned from a three weeks' outing, accompanied by her brother, F. S. McKnight.

RIGHT MAN FOR THE PLACE

G. N. Freman Has Made Excellent Record.

As County Superintendent of Schools He Has Given Universal Satisfaction.

[Giles N. Freman, Republican nominee for County Superintendent of Schools.]

There is one county office that comes closer to the home than any other and this is the office of superintendent of schools. Giles N. Freman, the present superintendent, has given the highest satisfaction in the office, and fortunately for Fresno county there has never been a disposition to interfere with the conduct of this office when it is run with high character and efficiency. Mr. Freman has demonstrated his peculiar fitness by training and temperament for the position and the people may be counted on to endorse his administration by an increased majority.

Mr. Freman took hold of the office by appointment in the first instance under difficult and distressing circumstances, but he soon brought order out of chaos. So great was the improvement, and so well did he conduct the affairs that at the ensuing election he was the logical candidate and was rewarded by election. During his whole administration there has not been a word of adverse criticism of the office.

This is not a matter of luck or chance, but the secret is to be found in Mr. Freman's personal and educational qualifications. His life work has been in the schools of this county. He is a graduate of Abingdon college of Illinois, and coming to California he taught with marked success in Yolo and Fresno counties. For six years he was a teacher in a common school in Yolo county, and later served for two years in this county as teacher in Washington colony. During T. J. Kirk's first term Mr. Freman was his deputy.

When it became the duty of the superintendents to select a man six years ago to fill out the unexpired term in the office, Freman was selected as the most capable and suitable man for the place. In addition to his long experience as teacher and superintendent, Mr. Freman has an intimate knowledge of present conditions in the Fresno county schools that makes him a most valuable public servant in that position. It is a fact that no new man could acquire in his first term and prudent business management of county affairs, if nothing else, must suggest the advisability of returning Mr. Freman in an office that he has brought up to a high degree of efficiency. The knowledge he has of each individual school enables him to recommend or supply suitable teachers, to help solve all local problems and to be an efficient superintendent in every sense of the word. The peculiar requirements of each school must be well studied and thoroughly understood, and Mr. Freman has that knowledge.

Mr. Freman has been particularly strong on the executive side, which is the most important part of school management. There has been perfect accord between him and the different school boards throughout the county.
With the hearty co-operation of the school trustees, Mr. Freman has been instrumental in bringing the county schools up to a high degree of efficiency. The teaching force has been the best in the state and the county schools rank with the best city schools.
Fresno county has a larger proportion of normal and university graduates than any other county in the state.
Teachers who have not had special professional training have shown unusual fitness.

Mr. Freman has urged upon school trustees to make buildings and grounds attractive and in this he has been very successful. He is always called into consultation by school trusttees when improvements are contemplated and his advice has been invaluable to the trustees. Last year over $100,000 was spent on school buildings and grounds.

Mr. Freman has been particularly careful in the appointment of school trustees when the districts failed to elect. Each year about 25 per cent of the trustees have to be appointed by the superintendent. Mr. Freman has encouraged districts to elect their trusttees, but where they have neglected this duty, he has taken unusual pains to select representative men in each district who takes an interest and a pride in the local schools.

Mr. Freman is a high-minded man of broad sympathy, good common sense, and unusual tact. He has kept the schools free from faction and has made them substantial institutions in which the county takes a just pride.

CHILD'S SKULL IS FRACTURED

Little Louis Frinchaboy Succumbs to Injuries.

Fell From Cart When Horse Slipped and Hit Head on Railroad Tracks.

Little Louis Frinchaboy, the 5-year-old son of J. B. Frinchaboy, the blacksmith, who lives at 820 I street, died last night at his home as the result of injuries received by a fall from a cart on Thursday evening. The little fellow was out driving with his father.
Mr. Frinchaboy was accustomed to holding the boy in his lap, but on this occasion and the little fellow beside him in the seat.

As they were crossing the Santa Fe on Tulare street, the horse took fright at an automobile approaching from one direction and a train from another, and gave a sudden lunge that threw little Louis off his balance. He tumbled out of the cart before his father could reach him, and struck on his head on one of the railroad tracks. He never uttered a sound, lying white and still,
with the blood streaming from a terrible wound in the head.

He was taken home at once and Dr.
Hines called to attend him. The Doctor found that he had sustained a fracture of the frontal and temporal bones on the left side. Hines trophined the skull, and did everything possible to save the child's life, but his efforts were useless, and death came about 8 o'clock last night.

Little Louis was an exceptionally bright child and was the pride of his parents, who are heart broken over his sudden taking away. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning from the Catholic church, the hour not having yet been determined upon.

CHINAMAN ACCUSED OF MISTREATING HIS HORSES

William Harvey, Sr., of the Humane Society, went to Clovis yesterday to prosecute a charge preferred against Yen Chien, a Chinese vegetable peddler, who was charged with mistreating his horses. The Chinaman owns a garden near Clovis. He peddles in this city and the report was brought to Harvey that he was away often for thirty-six hours at a stretch and left his horses tied up without water. Harvey caused his arrest on behalf of the society, but the witnesses failed to tell a sufficient story yesterday and so Harvey moved to Fresno.

He is himself, however, convinced that the man is guilty. Yen Chien was arrested twice last year for cruelty to his horse and was fined each time and he has been fined $15 twice this year by Judge Gray for the same offense. Altogether the Humane Society has prosecuted him five times and has had him fined four times.

He says business is quiet in Coalinga good.

"MISQUOTED" SAYS BRYAN

Democratic Leader Speaking In Mississippi.

Government Ownership Is His Private Citizen Belief—Is No Dictator.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 22.—Mississippi extended a cordial welcome to W.
Bryan today, when he spoke to about 15,000 people. Leading Democrats from all parts of the state were here and at the conclusion of the address, resolutions commendatory of Bryan were adopted by a strong vote.

Bryan's speech dealt with trusts and government control of railroads. He congratulated President Roosevelt upon his Democratic tendencies. Bryan declared that he (Bryan) had been misquoted and misrepresented in his utterances on the government ownership question; that he simply expressed his views as a private citizen, which he had a right to do, but was not trying to enforce his individual views on the party.

"I no more favor government ownership of the railroads," declared the speaker, "than does President Roosevelt, whose utterances on this subject are still in the minds of all."

FALL OPENING DISPLAY

Tomorrow and Tuesday--The Formal Millinery and Cloak and Suit Opening--All Welcome

Tomorrow we will throw open the millinery parlor and welcome Fresno ladies

It will be a case of beauty admiring beauty, for Fresno women certainly rival any in the state in point of good looks. "Her Imperial Highness, the Fresno Autumn Girl," will revel in our beautiful display tomorrow. It is so wide in its scope, so full of beauty, showing such magnificent creations that the wonder will be, how did we ever accomplish so much.

It will be fascinating to note how the new hats are attuned in color and rich materials to the beautiful autumn season. Velvet in royal colorings, magnificent waving ostrich plumes, iridescent ribbons and graceful flowers combine to lend a charm to autumn millinery never before equalled.

Never was there more links and turns and corners and pretty inconsistencies in millinery shapes. Some of the hats are very tiny, so much so that at the first glance there seems to be no shape on the head. The immense plumes darting out from the side but accentuate the picture hat thought.

Everything this season is for the rich, dark beauty, rather than the aesthetic tints of summer. Grapes are important millinery trimmings, and they unfold the vast possibility of beautiful colorings; all the tones from the deep wine tints to the dusky raisin shades and glowing ruby lights, thence into the tender green tendrils of the vine.

All are welcome to this millinery opening of ours. We have issued no formal invitations—none are needed. Come and look to your hearts content. Try on as many hats as you please. Plenty of persons here to serve you. Don't buy a hat until you are thoroughly satisfied. Look around you; see how much better every thing is here; and then you will leave us saying, Redlick's is my store.
